EPWORTH LEAGUES
OF THE METHODIST
CHURCHES MEET

The autumn rally of the Epworth Leagues of the Methodist churches of the city was held in the Fairville Sunday School Hall with a representation from Centenary, Exmouth, Carleton, Portland, Carmarthen and Fairville churches. Carleton led with an average membership of 42 and the same number present, making the 100 per cent in attendance. Carmarthen and Fairville came next. The banner is given when after three rallies the averages are taken, the next meeting being the final one in this year's contest, which will be held in February.

Frank Merrill, president of the Portland League was in the chair as he is also president of the united leagues of the city. Rev. Jabez Rice, pastor of the church, welcomed the visitors and Harold Hopkins, of Exmouth St. church read the scripture lesson from 103rd Psalm. Delightful music was furnished by George Campbell, of Portland League, who sang a solo; by Misses Vivien McColgan and Lottie Kelly, of Fairville, who sang a duet; and a solo by Misses Evelyn and Florence Mc. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Rice, then announced that J. King Kelley, K. C., would speak next Monday evening.

KING'S DAUGHTERS'
GUILD MEETINGS

Mrs. M. B. Austen, convener of the spiritual committee of the King's Daughters City Council, held a series of meetings that will recur fortnightly throughout the winter at the King's Daughters Guild. Mrs. C. S. Sanford, who is well-known for her forceful, clear presentation of any subject she takes in hand, gave a most illuminating exposition of the phrase "Stand therefore having your loins girded about with truth," the thought being developed from talks that were given by Mrs. Sanford last year in the Centenary W.M.S., on the armour for Christian living. Mrs. Stevens led in prayer for the work and for the girls in whom the Order is interested. Mrs. Love and Miss Yewans were received members, the latter being a young woman of ability from Boston, who is, for a rest and is much interested in the work that is being done locally. Mrs. Love is from west side and is one of those earnest workers that will be a support to any organization she may be pleased to join. The Council feel very much encouraged at the beginning of the winter's work.

KING'S DAUGHTERS'
CITY UNION HAS LARGE MEETING

Those who have stood staunchly by the work of the King's Daughters in the city were greatly rewarded last evening when many, who have not been in attendance for some time, presented themselves with encouragement to the faithful members and benefit to themselves.

Mrs. H. W. Robertson presided at the semi-annual meeting of the King's Daughters City Union, that was held in the Guild, when most interesting reports of and from past presidents were received. The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. M. D. Austen, spiritual secretary, who read from the sixth of Isaiah, basing her remarks on that theme, after which the hymn of the order was sung, "Guide me O Thou Great Jehovah." Mrs. F. K. McArthur led in prayer.

The reminiscences of past presidents were given and a touching ceremony was that of the presentation of a beautiful bouquet of roses in memory of Mrs. Otty L. Barbour and Mrs. McNichol, who were so beloved as presidents of the City Union and who are now at rest. Three presidents of former days are removed, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. H. E. Ellis and Mrs. A. Pierce Crockett, who sent a greeting by telegram, which was received with delighted appreciation by the members. Mrs. R. A. Jamieson, who was also absent, sent a message of affectionate interest in the work over which she was chief officer for some time. Those present, who spoke briefly and earnestly, were Mrs. George Henderson, Mrs. J. F. Flagler and Mrs. Charles A. Clark.

A large bouquet of white carnations was sent by the Opportunity Circle in memory of three of their departed leaders, Mrs. Foss, Mrs. Robert Humphrey and Mrs. Anna Long. Mrs. H. W. Robertson is the present beloved leader, as well as leader of the City Union.

A Rayworth furnished excellent music on the piano, greatly enhancing the social spirit of the evening, and Mrs. H. B. Peck read with her usual happy manner, giving the large and representative gathering several selections as she only can do. As the gathering was so representative, Mrs. George Dishart gave a report of the receipts of the Queen Esther Pageant and St. Patrick's tea that were given last year, with subsequent expenditures, that were very enlightening and encouraging as to the good work that is being carried on by the King's Daughters. The Sweet and Sour Shower was liberal and will give the house a comfortable supply for some time, greatly pleasing Miss Flower, the House mother and her girls. A committee composed of Mrs. R. E. Plimpton, Mrs. R. E. McLaughlin, Mrs. Charles Christie, Mrs. Gray Murdock, Mrs. W. H. Nicé, Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. H. W. Robertson served delicious refreshments that made a congenial social hour after the business of the evening was completed.

ENJOYABLE RECITAL
BY W. H. THORNE CO.
AT THE IMPERIAL

Miss Helen Davis, Mezzo-Soprano, and Victor Young, the Composer - Pianist, Heard.

Through the courtesy of W. H. Thorne & Co. Ltd., a thoroughly artistic and enjoyable recital was presented Monday afternoon at the Imperial Theatre by Helen Davis, mezzo-soprano, Victor Young, composer-pianist and the New Edison phonograph. Mr. Young appeared and in a short and interesting address told of the birth of the phonograph by Thomas A. Edison some forty years ago. A short history of the development of the phonograph followed, Mr. Young pointing out the fact that Mr. Edison's ambition to perfect an instrument which would re-create music so perfectly that the recreation would be indistinguishable from the original performance had been realized. The singing of Miss Davis and the playing of Mr. Young in direct comparison with their recreated art proved to the satisfaction of those present that Mr. Edison's ideal had been realized. Only by watching the singer's lips or the piano keys could one be sure when they sang or played and when they did not. The proof was indeed convincing.

The last three groups on the program were presented without the assistance of the phonograph. Miss Davis sang "Le Mariage des Roses" by Caesar Franck and "Take Joy Home" by Bassett as one group with "Supper" by Trevalsa, and "Billy Goat" by Mr. Young as encores. Mr. Young followed with "Prelude" by Schuett and as encore played "Music Box" by Primi. Miss Davis closed the program with "Good Morning Brother Sunshine" by Lehmann, and with the "Little Big Nose" by Mr. Young as an encore. Miss Davis is the possessor of a beautiful and luscious mezzo-soprano voice which she uses with great skill. Her singing throughout the afternoon was marked by thorough musicianship and good taste. Mr. Young will be remembered here as the pianist with Mme. Alice Verlet some three years ago. He again pleased his audience with his graceful personality and pianistic ability.

W. H. Thorne & Co. are to be congratulated upon securing these artists for an appearance here.

For Theatre or Opera. Matelasse capes lined with gorgeous silks and satins and trimmed with monkey fur are quite as popular for evening wear as the more conventional velvet wraps.

Separate Skirts. Many attractive separate skirts are shown in large checks and plaids in heavy, blanket materials. Brown and tan or gray is the most popular color combination.

FOR DINNER WEAR

The object of this hat is not to be a brim of fashionable width combined with ventilation but to make a posed of a coarse mesh of cheville. Interesting setting for a pretty face. It is designed for restaurant or dinner. It achieved what it started out to wear, and is the ideal accompaniment to a sleeveless frock of black velvet.

To a crown of black velvet is join velvet.

Special to The Journal. Newcastle, Nov. 13.—A wedding of much local interest was solemnized at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Marshall, of McNabb Court, Portmouth, N. H., on Wednesday, October 25, when their son Frank M. Marshall, was united in marriage to Miss Gertrude Lillian Hare, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hare, of Newcastle. The paragon was prettily decorated for the occasion, and only the immediate friends of the contracting parties were present. The bride, who was attired in white silk poplin, was assisted by Miss Edith Crichton, as bridesmaid, while George Rand was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held after which Mr. and Mrs. Marshall left on a honeymoon trip to Newcastle, and on their return will reside at Portmouth, where the groom is employed in the navy yard. At Blissett, Sunbury county, on November 10, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Murray, a quiet wedding took place when Miss Marjory, their only daughter, was united in marriage to Commodore Carr, Geary, in the presence of their immediate relatives. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Gosline, of Oromocto. The happy couple will reside in Geary.

They Were Honeymooners.

She had said something that distressed him, and seeing the look on his face, she exclaimed, "Oh, my darling, I'm afraid I have hurt you." "No, dearest," he replied gravely, "the hurt I feel is due to the fact that I know it hurts you to feel that you have hurt me." "Ah, no," she said. "Do not let that hurt you for an instant. My hurt is because it hurts you to feel that I have hurt myself by hurting you." "No, no, my precious! My hurt is because you are hurt over feeling that I am hurt because you feel that you have hurt me and are therefore hurt yourself and—"

LATEST HINTS

Afternoon Frock. An unusual afternoon frock is made of black crepe with sleeves of white georgette crepe, heavily embroidered in gold, and with front drapery caught up with a black ornament, outlined in white monkey fur.

Large-Figured Prints. Brilliantly colored prints, in silk and cotton, are to be very popular this winter and spring. They were used extensively at Deauville last summer and are a pleasant contrast from staid, one-toned gowns.

For Serges or Twills. Narrow fluted ribbon, usually of the black corded variety, is applied on the new serge dresses like braid, and is an effective trimming. Openwork braiding is also popular, and so are large eyelets.

Leather for Trimming. The most advanced showings for Palm Beach indicate that leather is one of the most popular trimmings. It is used for pipings, braided belts and applied motifs. Bright green and red leather are frequently used on white crepe frocks.

For Evening. Gowns of gold and silver cloth and tissue cloths in shades of lavender and blue are frequently embellished with intricate patterns in small beads. Crinkled fabrics are also being treated this way.

Smart Hat. A smart hat is of emerald green velvet with a narrow brim and a soft crown. The only trimming is a huge pom-pom of very fine silk floss which falls over the brim on the left side.

Evening Wrap. An evening gown of sapphire blue velvet, lined with silver cloth, has no fur but very elaborate wide sleeves trimmed with roses made of the velvet, and a full, ruffled collar of the silver cloth.

White and Silver. Brown lace is making some of the most attractive afternoon and evening gowns of the season. The most desired shade is the golden brown. Silver ribbon is most effective with this shade.

Where shall we shop today?

Colored blouses have the preference these days and several new and attractive models have just been received at D'ALLAIRD'S.

One navy crepe de chene overblouse is brightened considerably by patterns of red beads. Another of navy georgette features the Bulgarian trimming and tiny accordion-pleated tucks, also the open shoulder seam.

A black blouse of heavy crepe de chene has countless tiny tucks stitched with silver, and the raglan sleeve has the elbow vent. Vents are very new and appear in some of the finest Parisian models.

A blouse of brown crepe is trimmed with self material in muffin shade, and a gray crepe shows double hemstitching across the front finished with a touch of red and bugle beads.

What the business girl will appreciate just now are the comfy Vyella flannel blouses which are offered at a worth-while reduction this week.

Still in strong favor, the light colored blouse continues to offer dainty and fascinating models. And D'Allaird's lingerie which reflects the essence of good taste makes an attractive addition to the wardrobe of any woman, and they are surprisingly inexpensive too.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

In China a bride never has young girls for attendants. She is always waited upon by older matrons or spinsters.

Likewise, she never wears white, as that is the color of mourning. Yellow, the national color, is the favorite color for brides.

At the wedding ceremony and the feast afterward the bride speaks only when addressed by her husband or by his parents. She takes no initiative in conversation.

TRIBUTE TO A GIFTED
PIANIST AND SINGER OF GLADSOME SONG

One of the most enjoyable musical treats that have been given by the Edison department of W. H. Thorne and Co. was furnished in the Imperial Theatre yesterday afternoon from 4.30 to 5.30. The performers were Mr. Victor Young and Miss Helen Davis, from Orange N. J., the former an accomplished pianist and gifted composer and the latter a delightful mezzo-soprano with an equally charming personality that won everyone in the largely attended function. Miss Davis is really just one year old as Mrs. Young and both young people are thoroughly in love with each other and with their art. They were most generous in returning again and again as they furnished a program after giving the exhibition with the Phonograph. Miss Davis has clear enunciation, a rich voice and an exquisite understanding of giving expression to the ideas portrayed in her songs. Her very tall husband (she is very tiny) has perfect control of the piano and has the finest art in playing accompaniments, that is absolute submergence to the vocalist. His rendition of the prelude from Schuett was excellent and the light rippling Etude from Heller was equally acceptable. There was a gladsome ring to every note sung by the dainty little woman in the flame colored dress, who had no doubt followed her own advice "Take Joy Home and Make a Place for Her in Thy Groat Heart." The message was clear and plain and the artists will be welcomed gladly whenever they choose to honor St. John with their presence and their gifts.
