GLOWING TRIBUTE PAID TO WORK OF LLOYD GEORGE BY NEW CONSERVATIVE LEADER

"That applies not only to social schemes, which will be advocated by others, but to the things I myself would like to see done. What we need is quiet and as little interference as possible, either by legislation or administration.

"One subject of policy on which I must speak, because it comes up for settlement on December 6, is the Irish treaty. I think I am expressing the view of every one, the die-hards and everybody else when I say that whatever may be our opinion as to the treaty itself, or to the events which led up to the treaty, we are determined to give the treaty a fair chance. In saying that, I do not mean it merely in words. In dealing with the provisional government, we ought not to take the attitude that we think it will fail or hope it will fail.

Mr. Bonar Law then went on to say that he would choose all his ministers on their merits. He had been told by his medical advisers that he could face the task he had taken up; should he find it intolerable from the point of health he must abandon it, and must not be pressed to remain.

India Awakened Calls For Help

Miss Archibald Tells of Need for Workers to Germain St. Baptist W. M. S.

India must have more workers, for she is calling for the Gospel and eager to learn about the way of the cross is the message that was brought to the Germain street Baptist W. M. S., which held its crusade day yesterday afternoon and evening in the institute of the church, the chair being taken by the President, Mrs. S. S. Poole, wife of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Poole. The occasion was one of great interest, as there was present an honored guest, Miss Archibald, of Madras, India, who did the meeting honor by her glowing personality and clever descriptions of her adopted domicile

At the afternoon session, Miss Archibald gave an informal talk to a large audience, for all the Baptist Women's Missionary societies of the city were invited to share in the rare treat of hearing and seeing their beloved worker from the land of mystery, India. Mrs. D. Hutchinson led the devotional service and Mrs. C. R. Freeman, wife of the pastor of the Charlotte street Baptist church, West St John, sang very sweetly a song of devotion.

Miss Archibald then told of the costume she wore, a fascinating creation of silk and lace and gold embroidery with imitation jewels that flashed and shone and gave some idea of the great value of such a dress, when worn by an Indian Princess of great wealth, from whom the gown came. It was given in return for the service rendered by Miss Archibald, who was instrumental in saving the life of the only child of the Princess She wanted to give a bracelet, but the wise missionary knew that the costume would be of infinitely more value in her work, though the jewelry would have been of more personal value.

There is great need of workers in India, in the Baptist section as well as in others. John Davis, a devoted man, who has been the head of the high caste school in Madras with an attendance of one thousand boys, is now on his way home, not being able to withstand the heat, as he suffered from sunstroke, because of lack of knowledge how to protect himself from this dread malady, when he first went into the country. There is no one to take his place and the same is true of the hospital at Chicacole, because Dr. Cameron, a lady doctor, died from overwork, and the institution has to be closed. All this was impressed deeply on the hearers. "It is a message that must ring in the hearts of some of God's people, to stir them to a desire to carry on the work that is lying dormant; awaiting human aid to operate and testify to the Divine love of God," said the speaker.

At the evening session, Mrs. Poole presided and had with her on the platform, Mrs. Hope Thomson, the president of the W. C. T. U., to do honor to Miss Archibald, who is an earnest temperance worker in India, and the Editor of a leading temperance paper in that country. Mrs. Blake Ferris sang in rich full tones, velvety in quality, but full of expression, "A Voice Crying in the Wilderness, Prepare Ye the Way of the Lord." She was encored and sang a simple hymn with exquisite interpretation, that brought a light of happy enjoyment to the face of the sweet faced woman, who has come so far to get strength for her work, and workers for the field white for harvest.

Miss Archibald, who has been for twenty-five years in Madras presidency, which has forty million people in its community, has seen many changes since she first went there. When she, with another missionary entered a temple to look around, they were fined 15 rupees because they had defiled it. Not long ago, they were invited into the same temple, and as some of the people bowed befor the hideous god that was covered with melted butter, the ministers of the gospel, these devoted women, sat and told the priests and some of the people about the true God! This is one of the signs of the New Day in India, which was the title of the very fine address that was given.

Politically there is a new day, for all were loyal twenty-five years ago, but there is a restless spirit abroad, and this very unrest is driving the people to inquire about the new religion and to accept it, if there is anyone to teach them. Gandhi was a turbulent leader, but he was a good man too, but not well balanced. He has had a great influence in arousing the temperance sentiment and today a Local Option Bill has been passed in the Punjab, which has a population of forty millions.

The new day for women has come. Twenty-five years ago the Hindoo was wondering whether or not it was worth while to educate his daughter at all. Today there are four colleges for women, 200 passing for their B.A. last year in Madras alone. It is new day for the twenty-five million widows, many of whom have married again, and many are teachers, with accurate knowledge of their work. The widows do not have to have their heads shaved as in days gone by, as the custom is almost disappearing. The greatest sign of a new day in India, is the honor that is now given to her womanhood, where Christianity has touched it.

The guests of the Germain street W. M. S. which numbered about 150, were invited to partake of a delicious tea in the parlors of the church, and a pleasant social hour was spent between the afternoon and evening services.

TORONTO RIDING RETURNS TO THE CONSERVATIVE FOLD

Col. John A. Currie Has Plurality of 3,653 Votes in By-Election.

Toronto, Oct. 23.—By a plurality of 3,653 voes, with two polling places still to report, the riding of south-east Toronto resumed its Conservative allegiance in today's by-election by returning Col. John A. Currie to the seat rendered vacant by the death of John O'Neill, Liberal. The vote was extremely light, only seven thousand being cast from a roll of about 20,000. In three sub-divisions no votes at all were cast. The result with two polls missing follows:

Currie, Conservative, 4,759.

Callaghan, Independent Liberal and Anti-O. T. A., 1,106.

Pearce, Official Liberal, 742.

Maguire, Labor, 488.

The result shows a considerable revision of sentiment in the riding from 1919 when John O'Neill, the Liberal candidate, was given a majority of 4,585 over his nearest opponent, a Conservative.

Today's results in Southeast Toronto and in Russell, where a Liberal was returned add one to the strength of both the Conservatives and the Liberal parties, in the House. Following is the present standing of the groups in the Legislature:

U. F. O., 44; Liberal, 28; Conservative, 26; Labor, 11; Soldier, 1; Independent, 1, Total 111.

Previous to today's by-elections there have been three since the general election in 1919. In these the Liberals lost North Oxford, which the U. F. O. gained, while Kingston and Northeast Toronto remained Conservative.

Washington, Oct. 23—The Rumanian government has arranged with an international group of bankers for the conversion of $175,000,000 of its short term treasury notes, it was announced tonight, in a statement issued by the Rumanian Legation here.

The statement said that "the Rumanian government had arranged with an international group of bankers for the conversion of its short term treasury notes, held by private interests in the different countries in long term bonds, to the aggregate face value of $175,000,000. None of this money was supplied in cash.

HAD DIFFICULTY EXPLAINING WHY VESSELS COLLIDED

Steaming Easy Up St. Lawrence, Going in Same Direction, Ships Come Together.

Montreal, Oct. 23—Two captains, two pilots and various other officers of the steamships Orkeld and Izgled at the Wreck Commissioner's Court here today, had difficulty in explaining why the two vessels, steaming at easy speed up the St. Lawrence and going in the same direction, should have come into collision near Cape St. Charles on the night of October 12, last.

Captain Nicolas Dabinowitch, a Jugo-Slav, of the Izgled, testified that his ship while turning to port had sheered in the current at a sharp turn in the river and before he could get it straightened out, the Orkeld had collided with her.

Captain Julius Skovgaard, of the Orkeld, was below at the time of the accident, so his evidence was not important.

Armand Marchand, pilot of the Izgled, said he was trying to get out of the way of the Orkeld, but the current sheered his vessel too much.

Peter Hansen, chief officer of the Orkeld, testified that he thought the Izgled was in trouble at the time of the collision. She had sounded four blasts prior to striking the Orkeld. The latter had not sounded as she had right of way and both vessels were in full sight.

Taking of evidence will proceed tomorrow.

90,000 IMMIGRANTS ENTERED CANADA LAST FISCAL YEAR

This Compares Unfavorably With 148,477 Entering During the Previous Year.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 23—(Canadian Press)—Just one short of 90,000 persons entered Canada during the fiscal year ended March 31, 1922, according to a report of the immigration department. This compares with 148,477 immigrants in the year previous. Of the total 39,020 were from the United Kingdom as compared with 74,262 the year previous and 29,345 from the United States as against 48,059 in 1921.

During the last fiscal year, 47,898 sought admission from the United States, but because of the closer check on would-be immigrants from the south, 18, 553 were turned back. In 1921, 20,131 out of 68,190 persons seeking admission were rejected. Comparatively 39 per cent were rejected this year as against 30 per cent the year previous.

West Triumphed Over The East

Rockminister Won the Latonia Championship Stakes, Worth $35,000, on Saturday.

Latonia, Ky., Oct. 22—The west triumphed over the east yesterday when Reckminster won the Latonia championship stakes worth $35,000 over a distance of a mile and three-quarters at Latonia. Luck Hour was second and Surf Rider third. The time 2.55 3-4, clipped four-fifths of a second from the American record, and was one and one-fifth seconds better than that made by Cleopatra in 1920, the best previous time for the race.

The winners' share of the purse was $24,080.

Argos Victory Over Ottawa

Score Was 28 to 1, and 5,000 People Watched Conachef, a Great Half Back, Work.

Ottawa, Oct. 22—(Canadian Press)—Conacher—that's all. The above three words would adequately describe the result of Argos' victory over Ottawa Saturday except for the fact that the score was 28 to 1. Five thousand people glimpsed the reason why Conacher is called the "superman" of rugby, and saw an exhibition of individual playing that stamps this twenty-two-year-old half-back as the greatest that ever stood on an Ottawa gridiron. Argos are now certain of winning the big four title.

Tigers Defeated Queens, 19 To 2

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 22—When Tigers defeated Queens 19 to 2 on Saturday afternoon, they turned in their best game this season. In all other games this year the backs have fumbled. On Saturday they did not miss once. The wings have played a strong, steady game all season, but any ground they gained was immediately lost by the fumbling backs. On Saturday the wings played up to form and the backs above form so far as catching goes.

WRESTLING BOUT IN HAMPTON HALL

George Brooks Won from John Kilonis — Winner Is Out With a Challenge.

Hampton, N. B., Oct. 23.—Hampton sport fans enjoyed an unusual treat on Saturday night, in the form of a wrestling match, in the Agricultural Hall, and a large number of men assembled to witness what proved to be a very interesting and scientific exhibition.

The match was between George Brooks, of Hampton, and John Kilonis, of Halifax, who claims the welterweight championship of the Maritime Provinces. The match was for best two out of three falls the strangle hold being barred. Brooks gained first fall in 12 minutes, 10 seconds by a toe hold, and after an intermission of fifteen minutes he also won the second, after 4 minutes, 22 seconds of wrestling, with a half Nelson and body scissors.

Afterwards the two men gave a pleasing exhibition of the different holds and feats of strength and tumbling, which was much appreciated by the spectators.

It was announced that the winner of this bout is to meet the middle weight champion of the provinces in St. John on Friday night.

After the match Brooks issued a challenge to any man of 170 lbs. or under to meet him any time or any place.

London, Oct. 16.—(By Canadian Press.)—Now that the Prince of Wales has brought his series of visits to the Overseas Dominions to an end, except the prospective visit to South Africa, which is not likely to occur in 1923, he is anxious to turn his attention seriously to various social matters of outstanding importance in this country. He has been considering social problems rather deeply, according to a correspondent of the London Daily News, and is anxious to investigate them at first hand. He will probably spend a good deal of time thereat next year.

The great amount of good that King Edward VII. was able to do as Prince of Wales is recalled by the present Prince of Wales, in the way of lending support to all objects that had for their purpose the uplifting of the masses of the country as a whole, and he feels that in the career of his grandfather he has a worthy example to follow. He will certainly do all that is in his power to work along the same lines.

The Prince has always had the cause of the working classes at heart as he has shown on many occasions. He has already discussed this problem with several members of the Government, as he realizes that this is at once a vital and pressing matter.

As he has so often declared in his public utterances, the cause of the ex-service men is one that lies very close to his heart, and he would like to see these men more generally employed than is at present the case. He knows, however, that this question is surrounded by many difficulties, and that in particular it would be a manifest injustice to dismiss women wholesale from the industrial life of the nation to be replaced by former sailors and soldiers.

Other things being equal, however, His Royal Highness is most anxious that no one who fought for his country should be left without employment. He has set a good example in this direction as an employer of labor himself, and at his farms on Dartmoor and elsewhere a large proportion of his workers are ex-service men.

The Prince has taken a leading part in promoting the British Empire Exhibition, which is to be held at Wembley Park, near London, in 1924, and recently, when he visited the Exhibition site, he made particular enquiries as to the number of men who were now engaged on the work, and how many would be engaged before it was completed. He expressed satisfaction on being informed that a large number of men previously out of work were then employed in preparing the Wembley Park for the great Exhibition.

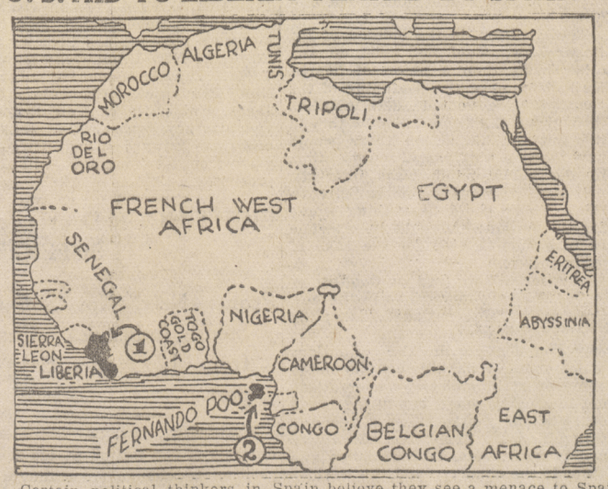
ANXIETY ALLAYED BY LETTER FROM STEFFANSSON

Dissipates All Fears for Safety of Wrangle Island Explorers.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 23—Anxiety as to the safety of Allan Crawford of this city, and his companions who ran up the British flag on Wrangel Island on September 21, 1921, and have been guarding it since, has been allayed by a letter received today by a member of the staff of the Toronto Daily Star from Vilhjalmur Steffansson, the noted explorer, who was responsible for the original expedition.

The anxiety was due to a misapprehension on the part of a New York reporter, who, in an interview with Steffansson, thought the "Teddy Bear" which was taking supplies to Wrangel Island last August and was forced to turn back because of ice and heavy weather, was a "rescue ship" instead of a "supply ship." The failure of the supply ship to reach the party, according to Mr. Stefansson, simply meant their isolation for a year and did not affect their safety.

U. S. AID TO LIBERIA FEARED BY SPAIN



Certain political thinkers in Spain believe they see a menace to Spain in the United States' latest loan of $4,000,000 to Liberia. Liberia is a negro republic, founded by this country for former slaves and for as many American colored people as cared to return to Africa.

The United States has always kept a watchful eye over Liberia. Spain sees in this only an American attempt to gain a foothold in Africa.

The Spaniards are particularly disturbed over the effect of an Americanized Liberia on their island of Fernando Poo, 1,200 miles away. Liberia will soon be so well off, they say, that all her labor will stay at home, and then the Spanish investments on Fernando Poo will fail for lack of workmen.

Montreal Varsity Humbled McGill

Won Intercollegiate Rugby Game on Saturday by Score of 51 to 5.

(Canadian Press)

Montreal, Oct. 22—Varsity humbled McGill by the overwhelming score of 51 to 5 in the feature event of Montreal's intercollegiate rugby season here yesterday. The combination of beautiful kicking, running and passing put up by Snyder, Duncan and Somerville, supported by Prendergast and Rolfe on the ends of the V arsity line, was too much for Dink Carroll's single unaided boot. Cope Campbell was the only effective Red and White tackler. Interesting features of the game which was so one-sided as to be almost dull, were Somerville's three field goals and Snyder's sixty five yard run. About eight thousand people saw the game.

Wilson and Miss Jessie Lawson, who will be the stage managers. With such a capable committee in charge and all the members enthusiastic in their work, the event will surpass many previous entertainments for numbers of performers and the rapidity with which they have acquired their respective parts in the grand display.

Miss Ethel Jarvis will go to Sussex tomorrow to aid in the promotion of the campaign there and will give an address and show slides of the work. The people of Sussex are looking forward to a good audience and an earnest attention to the work that must follow.

"I long for my liberty; would risk my life for it and eventually expect to get it, if I can do so without taking human life," he was quoted as saying.

Wilson is held in the county jail under the Appellate Court Acts on his appeal.

T. Isaac Coffey

T. Isaac Coffey, customs examiner, and one of Moncton's well known citizens, passed away quite suddenly at his home on Saturday evening. Mr. Coffey had been ailing the last two years and had been unable to attend to his official duties in connection with the customs office for the last four months. He was able to be around, however, and was out as late as Saturday afternoon. During the evening he was suddenly stricken and died shortly after.

The late Mr. Coffey was a native of St. John but had been a resident of Moncton for more than thirty years. He was a son of the late Timothy Coffey, of St. John.
