

WORLD HAPPENINGS IN PICTURES

More Mine Disaster Scenes--Bodies of Victims Being Taken Out of Pit

The entrance to the mine near Spangler, Pa., where more than 70 miners were killed by gas explosion and cave-in, was converted into a temporary morgue as victim after victim was brought out of the pit. The linen-covered bodies are shown lying on cots and raised planks waiting for identification and removal for burial.

Bringing out a victim of the mine explosion near Spangler, Pa., where more than 70 miners met their death. The bodies were rested on cots and raised planks, later to be carried off in trucks for identification and burial.

A Beauty From Virginia

One of the most prominent figures in the younger set of Washington society is Miss Elizabeth Woods, daughter of Congressman John F. Woods of Virginia.

John Doe Alias Jack Ass in Court

Arrested for loitering about the street without visible means of support, this donkey was arrested on a John Doe warrant and hauled into a Chicago court. He was sentenced to a light term in the police stables. He did not kick at the verdict.

NOTED CONTRALTO OF OLD SWEDEN

Mme. Sigrid Onegian, who will sing in America this season with the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York.

The Smile of True Gameness

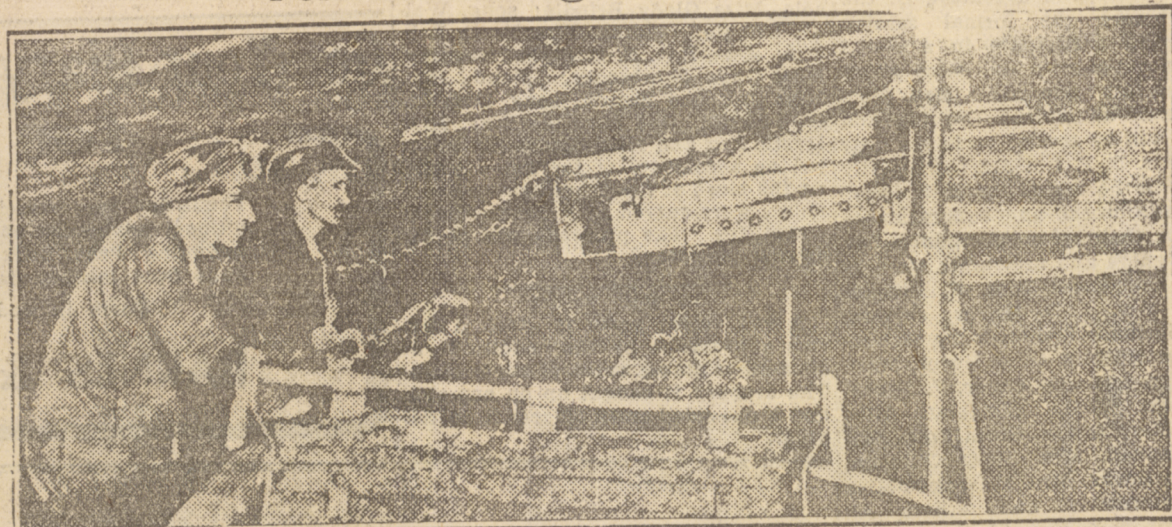

These two cheery winners were photographed after a victory in a Thames boat race. Only ex-soldiers who had been wounded in the war were allowed to compete.

Noble Stenos

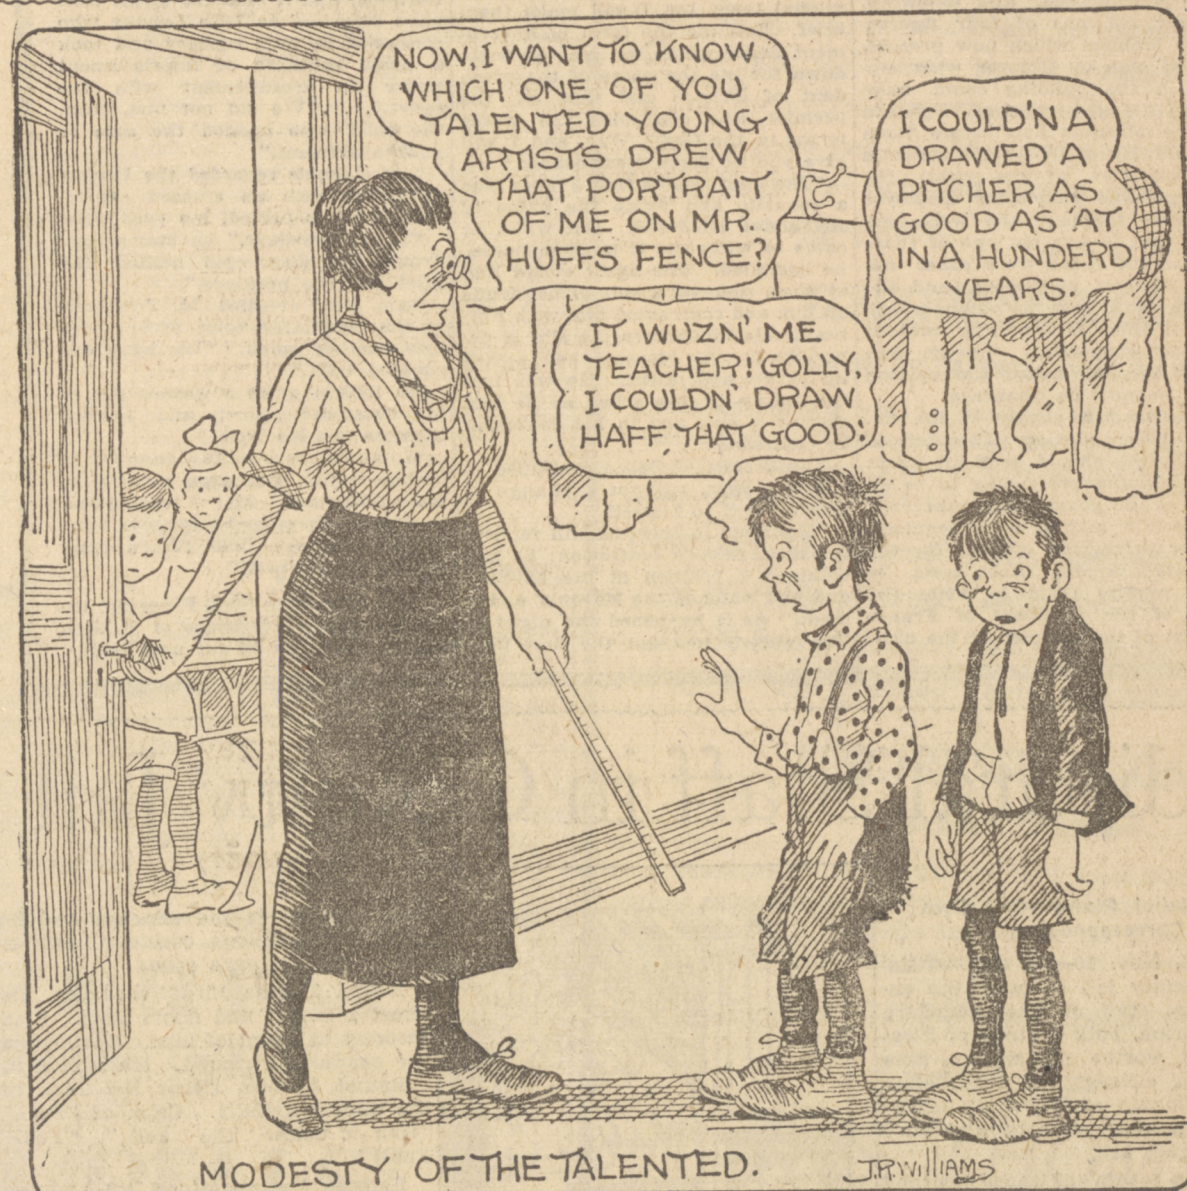

These two girls, members of the highest Russian nobility before the revolution, now are working in New York as stenographers. They are Mademoiselle Marie de Chrapovitsky (above) and Madame Olga Filosoff.

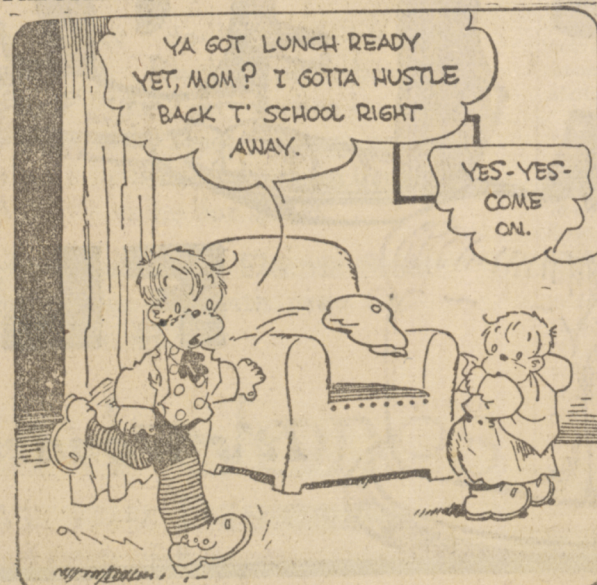

Perilous "Long Wall" Mining

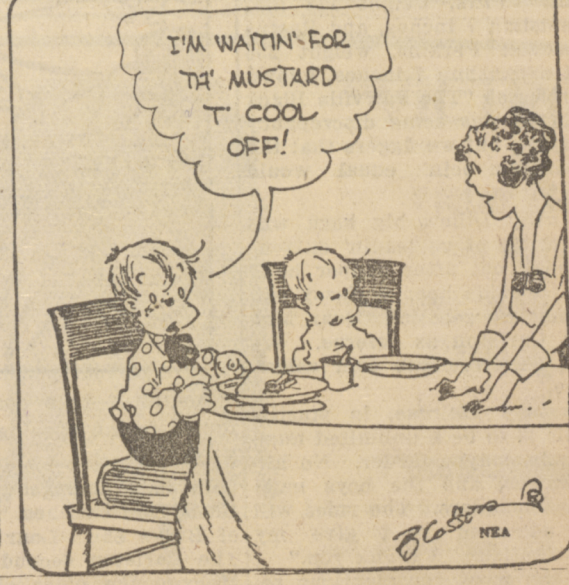

The constant peril which surrounded the Spangler miners engaged in "long wall" mining is illustrated in this unusual photograph of the dangerous work done by the men.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

A Long Wait Ahead

By BLOSSER