How Dollars Are Made!

By Stopping the Little Leaks
And losses great fortunes are accumulated. A loss of a few dollars on a suit of clothing may seem a small thing to some men, but it is losses such as these that make many men poor. The man who, instead of dealing with us, goes elsewhere and gets poor, shabby goods and slipshod, careless work in the making-up of these goods, is likely to look poor and feel poor, too, before many years. Gentlemen, stop these little leaks by dealing only with our firm, and you will then be sure of having clothing that will look well, wear well and fit well.

FIRES CAUSED BY INCANDESCENT LAMPS.

An investigation into the cause of a fire in a Winter Street dry goods store, in Boston recently, resulted in demonstrating that an incandescent electric lamp will generate sufficient heat to set inflammable material into a blaze. The fire in question, for which a still alarm was given, was caused by allowing an incandescent lamp to remain for a few moments on a pile of cotton cloth in the packing room. The person in charge left the room for a few moments, not dreaming but that it was safe to leave the lamp on the cloth. When he returned the cloth was blazing. The fire was soon put out, and not much damage was done.

This case recalls one reported from Louisville, Ky., a few months ago, the Boston Journal of Common adds, which demonstrates the same thing. The fire started, says the Insurance Herald, while the window dresser was preparing a Christmas snow scene. The window was lighted with incandescent lights, which it appears had not been changed for a year, except when made necessary by accidental breakage. The carbon in an incandescent globe has a life of 600 hours, and as it wears out the carbon loop offers increasingly less resistance to the current, and, therefore, increasingly more heat is thrown off upon the glass bulb and even upon the metal stems to which the globes are affixed. When a new light is attached the globe becomes only warm under continuous use, but after it gets old the globes are hot and the stems attain burning heat. The dresser was filling the floor of the window with loose cotton upon cheese-cloth, to represent snow. This was packed closely around the stems and globes of the electric lights, and there is no doubt that the inflammable cotton, touching the burning hot stems and globes, caused the fire.

A GREAT PRODUCER.

According to the South American Journal the value of live cattle and sheep exported from Argentina last year amounted to £1,000,000, and this year it is expected to be 50 per cent. more. As the country possesses about 30,000,000 cattle and 90,000,000 sheep, with only five million inhabitants, its export resources are enormous. It is said that bullocks giving 700 pounds per carcass can be delivered in London to sell at £12 a head with profit. Great areas of alfalfa are being laid out to fatten cattle, and the best breeds are being produced. It is therefore suggested that great as the sensation caused by the expansion of Argentine wheat growing has been, that of meat production will probably be greater. Over against this however must be placed the statement recently cabled from England that South American cattle do not give complete satisfaction in that market. There seems no good reason though why any present difficulties should not be overcome. As a producer of wheat, corn, cattle and sheep the great republic of the south seems destined to play an important part in the supply of the world's markets.

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is, unquestionably, the best preservative of the hair. It is also curative of dandruff, tetter, and all scalp affections.

IT IS STILL GOOD.

A local firm that furnishes country newspapers with "boiler plate," as the stereotyped reading matter ready to slip into a column is called, wrote to one of its patrons recently, says the San Francisco Post, asking that a half dozen columns of the stuff which had been sold a year ago be returned according to agreement, as the metal was needed. The journalist wrote back:

"I will send your metal as soon as it is worn out. I have only had it about a year, and good type metal ought to last a good deal longer than that, especially as I don't use it all every week. One week I run a 'A Slick Hotel Beat,' 'Hindoo Proverbs,' 'The Immortality of Jokes,' and 'Hints for the Farmer.' The next week I use 'Domestic Happenings,' though they are getting pretty old now, 'Cash News Itemized,' 'Money in the Banks,' and that column on 'Common Medicines.' I will order some new stuff as soon as this is worn out."

The readers of that paper have not held an indignation meeting yet.

ROSEBERY'S RESIGNATION.

WAS TENDERED TO THE QUEEN ON SATURDAY NIGHT.

LONDON, June 23.—It is officially announced that the Rosebery government will resign. Lord Salisbury will be summoned by the queen to form a ministry, and his cabinet will proceed with the routine business of the house, obtain provisional supplies, and then dissolve parliament. It is expected that the elections will take place about the tenth of July.

The second meeting of the cabinet yesterday was held to decide whether the government should resign or dissolve parliament. It was decided to resign.

After dinner at Windsor castle, last night, Lord Rosebery had a long private audience with the queen and communicated to her the decision arrived at by the government. The length of the cabinet's deliberations was due to the attitude of Herbert Asquith, home secretary, and John Morley, chief secretary for Ireland, who strongly opposed any step involving either resignation or dissolution. They argued that in view of the stage of the debates on the Welsh disestablishment and Irish land bills, the government ought to pass both into law.

All ministers with the exception of Premier Rosebery, remained in town over Sunday. Messrs. Thomas E. Ellis, George Leveson Gower and Ronald C. Munro Ferguson directed business at the liberal whips' office during the afternoon. They were engaged in the preparation of electoral lists. The liberal central offices were also open. Prime Minister Rosebery returned to his official residence in Downing street to-night. He found waiting for him Lord Tweedmouth, Arthur Morley and Mr. Asquith. The quartette conferred until 6.45, after which the decision to resign was first officially made known.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S DESPATCHES.

LONDON, June 22.—As the government has communicated to the leaders of the opposition its intention to give first place to the army estimates on Monday, it is understood that the cabinet has decided against resigning, preferring to ask the house of commons to reverse its decision on the motion of Mr. Bredrick to reduce the salary of the secretary of state for war, on which motion the government was defeated. If this course is followed, the government can rely on winning by as many votes as it was defeated last night. The unionists, accepting the challenge, will bring every man of its party to the division. Many liberals protest against further delay, and urge ministers to resign or dissolve parliament, as no possible precautions are likely to prevent the opposition from inflicting another defeat and disgracing the party. It has transpired that at the moment of last night's division there was, according to liberal whips, a majority of 16 for the government. Subsequently the question was asked as to where were the missing members. Some had slipped out of the house unseen. The whips were lounging and smoking on the terrace overlooking the Thames. Others had gone away thinking matters all right. As a matter of fact, the party was caught napping. Liberals in favor of dissolution say the same thing will occur again. The party, they add, cannot be kept eternally on a strain. On the other hand, there is no known instance of a government resigning on a defeat of the supply vote, and the paltry character of the snatch division, whether it was a trick or accident, justifies the ministers in holding on.

LONDON, June 22.—Lord Rosebery went to Windsor this evening, driven to the castle in one of the royal carriages. After dinner at Windsor castle Lord Rosebery had a long audience with the queen, and advised her majesty to dissolve the house of commons. No official statement is expected before Monday. An urgent liberal whip is out for that day.

LADY CHURCHILL'S SUIT.

MARRIAGE OF THE DUKE OF AOSTA AND PRINCESS HELENE.

"The London Realm" Lady Colin Campbell's paper, says that Lady Randolph Churchill (Formerly Miss Jennie Jerome, of New York) widow of Lord Randolph Churchill, who died on January 24, is now to be seen in Paris in the smartest cycling version of mourning. She wears a black alpaca suit edged with black leather and knickerbockers concealed by a short skirt and a black straw hat.

The arrangements for the marriage of the Duke of Aosta, nephew of the King of Italy, to the Princess Helene of Orleans which is to take place on Tuesday next are expanding. Four hotels, in addition to the Bristol hotel, occupied by the Countess of Paris, have been engaged for the guests. The wedding breakfast is to be given at the Orleans house, at Wickenham, but there will be several dinner parties at the Bristol hotel. The Wickenham is looking lovely and the roadway from Orleans house to the chapel, about half a mile distant where the ceremony is to take place, will be lined by visitors. The Prince of Naples, the Duke of Aumale, the Infanta Marie Louise of Spain, the Duchess of Montpensier and the Prince and Princess Henry of Battenburg, representing the Queen, form the most important guests, although it is possible that the Prince of Wales may also be present.

The worst blood diseases are cured with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Its effect are felt at once.

EXCITEMENT AT OTTAWA.

INTENSIFIED BY BISHOP GRAVEL'S REPORT TO ROME.

OTTAWA, June 24.—The official reply of the Manitoba government concerning the school question has not yet been received here, but the question of remedial legislation has become the one burning subject of conversation. It is an undoubted fact that the feeling among Ontario members in opposition to any sweeping measure of remedial legislation has gained intensity largely through the effect of the publication of Bishop Gravel's extraordinary report of Rome.

The government has not yet taken up the question, and will not do so till a reply is received from Manitoba.

Ministers make no disclosure of their personal intentions, but it is well understood that no measure will be introduced by the government until it is submitted to liberal conservative members in caucus. It is almost certain that if a strong remedial measure were brought down it would be opposed by a sufficient number of conservative members to defeat the bill, unless it has opposition support.

While ministers decline to speak, it is safe to say that they are not disposed to make war on the Manitoba majority, even in support of well defined rights, until every other remedy is exhausted. If the Herald correspondent were to venture a conjecture, it would be that a commission of inquiry would be appointed in accordance with the request of Premier Greenway, and that the matter would be left in any case pending their report. If, however, remedial legislation is introduced and carried, it will probably not go further than freeing the Roman Catholics from taxation for support at public schools. Members of the civil service here are much concerned over the superannuation tax to be levied on them. They have had several meetings and a committee has drafted a memorial which will be presented to Mr. Foster tomorrow. The charge proposed is rather serious as it increases the assessment for $1000 salary from $20 to $35.

PULPIT FLANKED BY BICYCLES.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The Rev. Dr. R. Marshall Harrison, pastor of the Bedford Heights Baptist Church, Bedford Avenue and Bergen Street, Brooklyn, delivered a sermon to bicycle riders last Sunday.

On either side of the pulpit was a "bicycle" but of different makes. "This was in order that it would not be thought that the preacher would advertise any particular wheel. His text was, 'Bodily Exercise Profitable.' He spoke in glorification of the wheel, and said a few years ago, while a pastor in this city, he became ill, and when he recovered he was weak. He was advised to get a wheel. He did so, and ever since, had been in the habit of riding it two hours a day for recreation, and it has resulted in his health being restored. He pronounced cycling as clean a sport as could be found.

"There are no drunkards among us," he said. "A man has to keep all his wits about him to ride a wheel. To all other sports champaignship is a necessity; not so in wheeling. It is the most wonderful pastime in this respect, for one person is enough and a thousand is not too many." In speaking of the best time for taking exercise, he said that he had found between 5 and 7 o'clock in the morning the most beneficial.

In closing, he said that the wheel had done more to level society than any other thing. The millionaire and the poor man ride along the same road, almost abreast, and breathing the same air.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

The Queen has conferred the Albert Medal of the second class on Mr. Robinson, third officer of the White Star Line steamer Britannic, who vainly attempted to save a suicidal passenger in St. George's channel on April 15. Mr. Robinson, who jumped overboard after the passenger, narrowly escaped being hit by the propeller. He was rescued in an almost exhausted condition.

The News publishes a despatch from Kiel saying that Hon. Arthur Wellesley Peel, ex-speaker of the House of Commons, and Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, American ambassador to Great Britain, visited Mr. Gladstone on the steamer Tantalus Castle yesterday afternoon. The ex-minister started an earnest and eloquent conversation on the subject of the Cromwell statue. Since the debate in the House of Commons he has talked of scarcely anything else.

MR. FLINT WAS DEAD.

OTTAWA, June 22.—A queer incident in the divorce line came out yesterday. Four years ago William Flint, a well known horseman, died. Some time before his wife who had a row with him left him and went to live in Dakota. Yesterday Sheriff Sweetland received documents from Dakota to be served on Flint in a divorce suit, at the instance of his wife. The Sheriff has written back that Flint was in his grave four years ago, and that no doubt the marriage bond was pretty well dissolved by this time.

A GOLD MINE THAT IS A MINE.

MONTREAL, June 23.—Despatches from British Columbia state that the recent clean up at Cariboo mines, in which eastern capitalists were interested, showed that 172 hours of washing produced gold at the rate of $90 per hour, and as soon as the company have appliances ready that will give them a continuous head of water, the production will be from $2,000 to $2,500 per day. Sir Wm. VanHorne and several other Canadian Pacific magnates are interested in the company, as well as others in the Cariboo district.
