Two darkies belonging to a vessel in the harbour, while under the influence of liquor made things lively in the vicinity of the Merry-go-round Saturday night. The fracas occurred over a well known damsel who decided the battle by leaving both of them.

Mr. B. Mathews, who has been with the riding gallery in this city since its arrival, left Saturday for Newfoundland. Mr. Mathews belongs to London, Ont., and he, with Mr. C. Ferguson, agent for the above machines goes to Newfoundland to set some of them up in that place.

The different members of the attached company of the Royal Regiment of Canadian Infantry, who have been taking short courses of instruction at the Military school at Fredericton, have been sent home to their respective companies in order that they may attend camp at Sussex. A large number passed through here Monday night.

DROWNED IN THE BAY.—A report reaches the city that Thomas Wolf, who resides at Five Fathom Hole, was drowned on Wednesday last. He had been lobster fishing off shore and had gone to look after his traps. It is supposed that one of the traps had become fast and in an effort to release it he was drowned. The body has not been found.—St. John Record.

Mary Petley, who is now serving six months for prostitution in Dorchester jail, will be taken from that institution to-morrow, and tried under the Speedy Trials Act for stealing $50 from a Frenchman made a month since in a house kept by Mrs. Colpitts on Main street. The man lives in Adamsville, and Marshall Foster proceeds to that place this morning to subpoena him for the trial.

The wonderful powers and accomplishments displayed by Miss Anna Eva Fay, as described in our issue of Saturday, will undoubtedly command a large and interested audience this evening. There is always very much of instruction as well as of pleasure in witnessing the capability of natural gifts, highly cultivated, and Miss Fay's appearance here is undoubtedly a rare opportunity to obtain a good deal of information of this class.

What might have proved a serious conflagration occurred Saturday night about eleven o'clock. As W. G. Bell, grocer, was about leaving his store for the night, he told his clerk to put out the light, and in doing so he accidentally turned a small screw that secured the lamp in the frame. The lamp, a very large one, fell to the floor and the oil immediately ignited, setting fire to the floor and several boxes near by. After some hasty fighting with the flames, during which the assistance of several outside parties who happened to be passing at the time and the use of saw bags came into requisition, what might have been a serious loss to Mr. Bell was averted.

The Riding Gallery had an extra large run Saturday night and also made their farewell bow to the Moncton public. The many who have patronized the wheel will look back with pleasure on the pleasant recreation spent there after their hours of toil and will remember the courteous and gentlemanly treatment received at the hands of the gentlemen connected with the affair. The few will be glad to hear of their departure and grumble at the big "haul" they claim the gallery made since coming here, but if the matter was figured closely, those gentlemen will probably not have as much margin above expenses as would accrue from a 20 % note shave or some barefaced swindles that have occurred in this, our model city. The steam riding gallery go to Springhill from here.

FOR CAMP.

Camp Sussex opens to-morrow and everything is active in militia circles. Railway in time to join the other companies at this place. All will embark on a special for Sussex. The 74th Batt. Band will be among the number.

DEATH OF SENATOR BURNS.

Many will be sorry to hear of the death of Senator Burns, of Bathurst, which occurred at 5 o'clock last evening. Mr. Burns held a seat in the senate only a short time having been appointed in place of the late Senator Ferguson. Previously he held a seat in the Commons which has since been filled by Mr. Doucet.

BOLD RASCALS.

On Saturday night about 9.30 o'clock, two rather bold fellows were observed by Davidson and McNeil of the LEADER office attempting a forcible entrance to a house on Railway Avenue, which extends from Church street to the railway. After a little effort they abandoned the place, probably finding the door more securely fastened than they expected, and perhaps fearing their movements were watched, but a half hour later they returned, and attempted to get into the house adjoining, which was unoccupied.

These are some of numerous indications that tramps and scamps of various grades and kinds are infesting the city, and it may be well for householders to exercise a little more than usual caution for a time.

SWALLOWED AMMONIA.

Saturday about 10 o'clock a four year old child of Mr. David Crandall, living on Bonacord Street, picked up a bottle containing ammonia that had been accidentally been left within reach and swallowed a large dose of the liquid. The little fellow was badly burned. Dr. Smith was immediately summoned and relieved his suffering. To-day he is pronounced out of danger.
