At the left is the eighth puzzle in the series. Anyone desiring to enter the contest may start any puzzle in the series.

We are giving eleven prizes for answers sent in, the first prize for the largest number of correct or nearest correct answers, the second prize for second largest number, and so on. Even though answers may not be entirely correct you may win a prize.

There are twenty-seven puzzles in the series. The correct answers will appear two weeks after publication of each puzzle. Answers must be in not later than Saturday of the week following publication, not the Saturday of the same week.

It is not necessary to cut out the puzzle and mark the mistakes; in fact, it is best to describe the mistakes when sending in answers. Keep the drawing so you can check up when the correct answers are printed.

There are eleven prizes and it is not too late to enter your first solution to the puzzle printed this week, which is the eighth, and answers for it must be in on or before May 10.

Plaster Rock School Notes

Lately, the Nightingale Branch of the Junior Red Cross held a concert in the Community Hall. Part of the proceeds was sent to the Red Cross Hospital at Saint John, and a first-aid kit was bought for the use of the school with the remainder.

School-ground play is under the supervision of the teachers, assisted by high school students. This week Miss McCracken, assisted by Lillian Brody, Mildred Fawcett and Nania Jensen, have kept games of horseshoe, circle dodgeball and hoist-the-sail in progress during the recess periods. A basketball, a football and two softball and bats have been provided.

THE LAST STRAW

I've sought for fossils in an ancient town.

For scientific relics delved and dug; I've searched this old world over, up and down

For pre-historic animal and bug. I found them all, and still I can't forget

I lost a collar button once . . . I'm hunting yet.

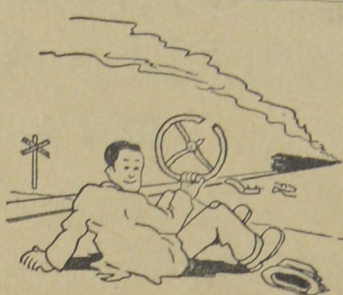

The time of June brides is coming, and it is a great thing to be in advance of the season. For those inexperienced ones who are contemplating that form of strife known as matrimony, we would offer the following suggestions for some things which are absolutely essential to wedded bliss:

For the Bride

- 1—Snore silencer.
2—Small vacuum cleaner for emptying his pockets.
3—Stone crusher for the first biscuits.
4—One ton of bricks to throw at the first woman friend who says, "I could have had him if I had wanted him."

For the Groom

- 1—One roll cotton-batting to stuff ears.
2—Two sets false teeth for amateur pie crust.
3—Insurance policy to protect against mother-in-law.
4—Silent tread shoes for coming in late.
5—Unlimited nerve and income.
6—Absolute nonchalance when being questioned as to where he was. This nonchalance (whatever that is) can be acquired by smoking a well-known cigarette.

because advanced features reduce vibration to the minimum.

THE unusual smoothness of the Pontiac Big Six results from special features in its sturdy 60-horsepower engine. One is the harmonic balancer which eliminates torsional vibration. Another is the G-M-R cylinder head which does away with roughness and minimizes knock. And the improved type of rubber mounting insulates the engine from the frame and still further increases Pontiac's smoothness.

Even with hours of steady high speed driving the Pontiac Big Six engine is never pushed beyond a point at which it is silent and smooth. For Pontiac develops its maximum horsepower at very moderate engine speed.

See the Pontiac Big Six, and better still, drive it. We shall be glad to arrange a demonstration. Then, if you wish, use the G.M.A.C., General Motors' own deferred payment plan.
