FIRST IMPRESSIONS

The first person a tourist meets, or should meet, on entry into Canada by automobile, by way of international bridge, highways or ferries, is an officer of Customs. It is the duty of that officer to facilitate the passage through Customs of the visitor, and to tender assistance in every possible way. This service can be accorded pleasantly and cheerfully. First impressions are lasting, and if the visitor is given courteous assistance he will receive an excellent impression of Canada and its Customs officers.—National Revenue Review.

Those who talk about hard times, scarcity of money and the low price of farm products, should note the fact that strawberries imported from the United States are selling in local grocery stores for 39 cents a box and cucumbers for 20 cents each. No doubt the people who are buying them will, in the course of a few weeks, kick against paying 10 cents a box for home-grown strawberries of superior quality, and five cents for better cucumbers. If a man wanted to buy an automobile and had assurance that by waiting a few weeks he could obtain one at one-fourth of the present day price he would prefer to wait, and would be foolish not to do so. Then why not wait a few weeks and get strawberries and cucumbers at one-fourth the present price or less? Yes, why not, and keep your money at home.—Fredericton Mail.

RED CROSS APPEAL

Announcement is made by the New Brunswick Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society that an appeal for funds is to be made to the people of the Province during the week beginning July 25. At no time since the close of the War has there been so great a demand upon this organization for relief. The Society has been overwhelmed by the number of requests for help due to the financial situation throughout the Province. Literally thousands of families in dire need are asking for help. In New Brunswick, with a population of 350,000 there are over 300,000 of our people not served by any local welfare organization. In this crisis those in need naturally look to the Red Cross for assistance. With its splendid service in war and peace it is the one agency uppermost in their minds when seeking help.

The Red Cross has done everything possible so far as its funds would permit, but these have been exhausted. The people of this Province must realize the great emergency we are facing and stand squarely behind the Red Cross. It is a time for serious thinking; for realization that we are indeed our brothers' keepers; for sacrificial giving. There is likely to be an increase in the load of relief work this Fall and Winter; it is steadily increasing now.

The Province has been fortunate in that it has been one of the last to feel the effects of the business depression, and if we profit by the experience of other sections of the Dominion, we will come through this crisis with the least possible amount of suffering. But to do this our people must present a united front; every shoulder must be put to the wheel; we must see to it that the Red Cross has adequate funds to meet the situation. At least $30,000 will be required for the coming year.

J. D. McKenna, of Saint John, has accepted the general chairmanship for the campaign throughout the Province to be conducted during the week beginning July 25. Local committees will be organized in all of the communities throughout New Brunswick.

With the confidence of the public due to the splendid services of the Red Cross in time of war and in peace, with its 26 Senior and its 414 Junior branches throughout the Province, with its trained leaders and its experience in relief work, this Society is in a position to meet the crisis, if adequate funds are provided. From every section of New Brunswick comes an ever-increasing cry for help. Food, clothing, medical assistance are asked for. Trained nurses are needed. Even in the larger communities where excellent relief agencies are functioning, the demands are greater than they can meet. Here also the Red Cross must help.

FRENCH VALEDICTORY AT SACRED HEART CONVENT

charge of this Convent. The people of Grand Falls were happy also for they realized the benefits of a Christian education for their children. They were not mistaken, as we can judge by the results of your teachings. You can be proud to take first place among the houses of education.

In a few short minutes we are leaving you, but not to see you no more, for it will always be a pleasure to greet our Alma Mater. Thanks for all the care you have given us in our religious and educational duties. Be assured we will put in practice the lessons we have learned.

And you, dear classmates and friends, with whom we have passed so many happy hours. Our sorrows and happiness we shared. Now we part, but we will keep forever a great affection for our Alma Mater, and we will ever belong to one great family. And you, dear classmates who take our place, we say not goodbye but au revoir. The friendships we have formed will never die.

Continue your studies with diligence and do honour to our dear Convent.

Meanwhile, I feel I would fail in my duty if I did not mention the respect due the founder of Sacred Heart Convent, Rev. Father Albert. I am certain that in the Heights of Heaven he guards the destinies of his gift and is happy at the success of this Institute.

May his memory remain forever in the hearts of the people of Grand Falls, and in the hearts of the pupils of this Convent!

Rev. Father Bernier, venerable pastor, I offer you, in the name of the parents and pupils, sincere thanks for the special attention you have always given our Alma Mater. Yes, Reverend Father, you have faithfully and successfully taken charge of the work left by your predecessor. May you continue for many years to protect the privileged children of our Convent with your faithful and paternal care.

Once again, to you all I say many thanks and au revoir.

The best tuna fishing in Canada is to be had off Liverpool, Nova Scotia, according to the Fish and Game Department of the Canadian National Railways. Zane Grey, the noted author, on one occasion broke a world's record by landing a 750 pound tuna with rod and line there.

Twenty-five years ago two brothers parted in a small Surrey town in England, one to homestead in Canada, the other to join the Anglican church in India. One became a successful farmer at Wembley, Alta., the other rose from Assistant Chaplain in the church's largest diocese in India, to its Archdeacon. Since their ways parted, they have never met, although 1915 almost saw the reunion when the Archdeacon was home on holidays, and the Canadian brother invalided to England from the front. They missed each other by a week.

The brother from India, now Ven. A. B. Roberts, left Jasper Park Lodge at Jasper, Alta., in the Canadian Rockies, recently to join his brother in reunion at Edmonton. He has been stationed at Nagpur, in Central India, and is returning home. While holidaying at Jasper he established the contact with his brother that will unite them once more. After a visit at Wembley the Archdeacon will leave for England to visit his sister at Wimbledon.
