Woman Injured at Andover Crossing

Four Occupants of Automobile with Illinois License Plates—Accident on Andover Crossing Near Courthouse.

This morning an automobile from the state of Illinois, with four occupants, Mr. and Mrs. William Ginnan, Mrs. Mary Walsh, and Robert Wallace, all of Chicago, was struck by the engine of Aroostook-Woodstock mixed train, at about six o'clock. One person, Mrs. Walsh, only, was injured and it is thought by striking the gear shift lever.

The owner and driver, Mr. Wallace was looking over to the east side of the bridge when he came to the crossing and the train appeared suddenly around the curve and county building. The train was moving slowly as usual and the engine struck a front door of the car and shoved the car along the track for a few feet and almost down the embankment. The train was soon stopped.

Many Attend Services at Kincardine on Sunday—Anniversary of Ordination Observed—Services in Charge of the Woodstock Presbytery.

Noteworthy gatherings took place at the Melville church, Kincardine, on Sunday, with a communion service in the morning—93 communicants taking part—and the anniversary service in recognition of the fortieth anniversary of the ordination of Rev. Gordon Pringle in the afternoon. Members of the Woodstock Presbytery had charge of the services, those present being: Rev. Hugh Miller, Debec, chairman; Rev. A. D. Archibald, Grand Falls; Rev. D. L. Giddings, Hartland; Rev. W. A. McQuarrie, Edmundston; Rev. W. H. Palmer, Jacksonville; Rev. A. F. MacLean, Andover. Rev. Mr. Miller spoke at the communion service. In the afternoon several hundred people were present, from points up and down the Saint John river, the Tobique, and Maine, as well as all parts of the Scotch Colony.

It was a service to be remembered by those who attended—a service recognizing an event that is rare in these days, that of so many years of faithful service of a minister in the one field. The main address of the afternoon service, containing the resolution of the Woodstock Presbytery, was given by Rev. A. D. Archibald. His address appears in full at the end of this article. Rev. D. L. Giddings spoke on "The people in relation to changes of time." Rev. W. A. McQuarrie took as his subject, "Changes in the past forty years." Others who brought greetings and congratulations to Mr. Pringle and his congregation were Rev. B. T. Gaskin, of Kibburn; Rev. A. F. MacLean, J. W. Niles, M.L.A., J. W. Corey. Some of these told of the faithful service of so many years among the people of Kincardine and Kintore; the drives through winter snows and cold; the sympathy and affection bestowed on his people and returned by them.

Rev. Mr. Pringle spoke a few words at the close. Feeling somewhat overwhelmed by the remarks, he expressed his appreciation of the many nice things said. Always, he had desired to be humble and lead a gentle life, to be among his people, just to live and love. His life and work had been a partnership with his people, and he thanked those present for the tribute to his congregation.

Rev. Mr. Archibald's address was as follows:

"Rev. Gordon Pringle was born in Edinburgh, Scotland. He is a son of the Manse, and seems to have inherited his fondness for a long pastorate, as his father was for 45 years minister in Turves, Aberdeenshire. The educational advantages which he enjoyed were of the highest order. He attended George Watson's College for boys, and on the completion of his course there, entered Edinburgh University. His career here was a creditable one, and we note during his theological course he was prize-winner in several subjects.

The compilation of a family tree was put in the hands of a committee of four, namely, Thomas M. Wiggins, Young's Cove Rd., Geo. S. Buzzell, Caribou, Me., Geo. S. Wiggins, Fort Fairfield, Me. An entertainment committee was also appointed, consisting of F. P. Thomas, Caribou, Me., Mrs. Hazen Gray, Pembroke, and Julia L. Ross, Fort Falls. Mrs. A. D. Bailey, Sussex, and Mrs. S. T. Britton offered their homes for the 1932 reunion, which will be held on the third Wednesday in August. Ledge-mont Farm being more central, Mrs. Britton's invitation was accepted. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Britton for their kind hospitality, after which the humming of motors signified the departure of the guests to their several homes. It was the end of a happy day. The suggestion has been made that a reproduction of the Wiggins coat-of-arms be procured. A list of those present will be printed next week.

That he might learn some worthwhile lessons in the school of experience, he went to Australia where he spent two years.

"On April 27, 1892, he was licensed to preach the Gospel by the Presbytery of Ellen in Aberdeenshire. In this same year he came to Canada, and preached for a few months in Hampton and Lorneville, in what then was and still is, the Presbytery of Saint John. Mr. Pringle was ordained by the Presbytery of Saint John in Calvin Church, Saint John, on September 7, 1892—forty years ago last Wednesday. On that occasion Dr. Fullerton presided, a brother Scot, Dr. Bruce, addressed the minister, and Dr. Macrae the people. There were giants in the pulpits in those days is Saint John and these men were among the number. These gentlemen have all passed to their reward.

"It would be interesting for a moment to note the changes that have taken place in the Presbytery since Mr. Pringle's ordination (geographical since union). There were in addition to those from Saint John already mentioned as taking part in the ordination service: Revs. Dr. Bennett, Jack and Gray, retired; Dr. Robinson at Moncton; D. M. Clark at Chipman; (Continued on Page Two)

WIGGINS REUNION AT LEDGEMONT FARM, WOODSTOCK

A beautiful September day marked the occasion of the third Wiggins annual reunion, which was held on Labour Day, at Ledge-mont Farm, the spacious 'Tourists' Home' of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Britton, Woodstock. Ledge-mont Farm is beautifully situated on the St. John river and is an ideal place for a gathering of this nature. Over one hundred relatives and friends partook of a sumptuous picnic dinner, which was served on the lawn. After the inner man was fully satisfied, the gathering was called to order for the purpose of organization. C. C. Wiggins, Millville, York county, was elected president, and Mrs. S. T. Britton as secretary.

The compilation of a family tree was put in the hands of a committee of four, namely, Thomas M. Wiggins, Young's Cove Rd., Geo. S. Buzzell, Caribou, Me., Geo. S. Wiggins, Fort Fairfield, Me. An entertainment committee was also appointed, consisting of F. P. Thomas, Caribou, Me., Mrs. Hazen Gray, Pembroke, and Julia L. Ross, Fort Falls. Mrs. A. D. Bailey, Sussex, and Mrs. S. T. KILBURN

Sept. 12—Our school opened on Tuesday last, with Miss Ola M. Burby, of Woodstock, in charge. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Campbell left on Saturday for Skiff Lake to spend a week before resuming his duties at Presque Isle, Me. Mr. Carr has been a relieving station agent for J. Campbell during the summer months.

Miss Glenna Bishop, of Coronation is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Archie Manzer and Mr. Manzer, at Washburn, Me. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baird and daughter, Lillian, and Mrs. Martha Kilpatrick were tea guests of Mrs. John Grant on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Bishop, of Coronation, and Miss Mildred Baird and Edgar Barnett spent Sunday evening at the home of Wiley Grant.

Mrs. Bernice Campbell, of Arthur-ette, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Murray B. Grant, and Mr. Grant.

The ladies of the Red Cross Society will hold their September meeting at the home of Mrs. Wiley Grant on September 20. All are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Margaret Inman, who has been working at Woodstock, returned home last week.

A number of young folk enjoyed a corn-roast along the shore of the river.

Miss Phyllis MacDonald spent the week-end with the Misses Betty and Anna Paul, of Maniac.

Longmoore-Crone

An interesting event took place on September 5 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Sadler, Maple View, when Annie Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Crone, was united in marriage to Earle Richard Wesley Longmoore, only son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Longmoore, of Fairville, in the presence of over 350 friends and relatives.

Rev. Kenneth McLeod, pastor of the United Baptist church at Plaster Rock, of which church the bride is a member, performed the ceremony. The bride, who was dressed in white georgette over white satin with wedding veil and accessories to match and carried a bouquet of gladioli and maiden-hair fern, was attended by Miss Margaret Marsten, who wore yellow organdie embroidered with black, with white hat and shoes and stockings to match, and carried an arm bouquet of yellow dahlias and maiden-hair fern.

Little Miss Dorothy Crone was the flower girl and looked very winsome in Nile green organdie, trimmed with streamers of Nile green ribbon, and bandeau of same, and carried a basket of sweet peas. Horace Sadler, cousin of the bride, supported the groom. The ceremony was performed on the verandah under a beautiful arch of green and yellow. The bride was given away by her father, and the wedding march was played by her aunt, Mrs. William Sadler.

During the signing of the register, Miss Louise Blakslee, of Perth, sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Herbert Baird, of Andover. Solos by Mrs. James Hayden, of Riley Brook, followed, also musical selections rendered by Mrs. Fred Petchey and Miss Katie Hawkes, of Plaster Rock, and Miss Blakslee.

After the reception a buffet luncheon was served to the guests. The bridal table was beautifully decorated in yellow and white, lighted with four yellow candles in silver candlesticks; centered with a five-tier wedding cake, surmounted by an arch of green and white beneath which stood a miniature bride and groom.

Those seated at the table were the bride and groom, bridesmaid and groomsmen, flower girl, and Rev. Kenneth McLeod, Miss Gladys Longmoore, only sister of the groom, and the bride's father and mother. The living-room was beautifully decorated with potted plants and garden flowers. The bride's sisters and girl friends assisted in the serving.

Many gifts of cut-glass, china, pyrex, cutlery, silverware, linens, etc., were received, testifying to the popularity of the bride and groom. The groom's gift to the bride was a keystone pearl on amber toilet set; to the bridesmaid, flower girl, and organist white necklaces; and to the best man a signet ring.

The bride's going away costume was a brown canteen crepe dress, with brown hat, gloves, shoes and stockings. Her coat was beige cloth with racoon collar.

Mr. and Mrs. Longmoore will reside in Fredericton, where the groom is a member of the staff of the Dominion Plant Pathological Department.

Among the guests who came from a distance were: Colin McGibbon, Niehart, Montana; Mrs. James Clark, Boston; Miss Longmoore, Fairville; Miss Patricia Jenkins and Clayton Reed, Gagetown; Mrs. Emerson Hawkins, Mrs. E. Langille and Mrs. Charles Wilcox, Fredericton; Mr. and Mrs. Allison Schriver, Woodstock; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vail, Brock Vail and Miss Katharine Emery, Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crone, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crone and son, Mr. and Mrs. Anson Margison and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hawkins and son, Arthur, Harry Crone, Mr. and Mrs. Wilnot Estey, Centreville; Mr. and Mrs. Byron Hatch and daughters, Mrs. Charles Hatch, Mrs. Bernard Johnson and daughter, Helen, Caribou; Malcolm Wright and Mr. Dickie, Campbellton; Guy Pugh and Herbert Hierlthy, Edmundston; Ernest Gilbert, Toronto; Dr. Puddington and son, Jack, and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Wright, Grand Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Baird, Mr. and Mrs. John Niles, Andover; Mrs. Bessie Sadler, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sadler and son, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sadler, Harry Blakslee and daughter, Louise, Mrs. Charles Raymond, Mr. and Mrs. A. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Wright and daughters, Perth.

and daughter, Arlene, accompanied by Miss Milbury, motored to Everett on Sunday for Mr. Grant's mother, Mrs. G. Everett, who has been visiting relatives there.

Mrs. Nellie Lockhart and Mrs. W. Crawford were callers at Jerry Inman's on Sunday.

John Ogilvy has returned from Gulquac.
