"Wilma" in Mufti

Here's an informal view of "Lieutenant Wilma," otherwise ADELE RONSON, young actress whose role is a leading one in the adventures of "Buck Rogers in the Year 2433," heard five nights weekly at 7.15 p.m., A.S.T., over WABC and the Columbia network. Although in her early twenties, she's been a frequent performer in radio drama for the past three years.

RADIO NOTES

Alois Havrilla, announcer, is the husband of Marion Munson, former Bridgeport, Conn., choir singer and descendant of John Howland, who arrived on the "Mayflower."

Ruth Yorke, a comparative newcomer to CBS radio dramatics, is fast becoming a star. She now plays leads in two CBS script programs, being heard four afternoons a week as "Marie, the Little French Princess" and three evenings a week as Ruth Mason, heroine of the new series "Jack Dempsey's Gymnasium."

Columbia's vocal stars and bands are not alone in the demand for personal appearances of radio celebrities. The commentators also are putting in appearances. Edwin C. Hill, CBS's most stage-shy speaker, has capitulated to the theatre and soon will embark on his first series of platform addresses. At the same time, Frederic William Wile, opitical anlyst, is preparing his second address before the annual Congress of the D. A. R. in Washington. Wile will discuss the international situation. Simultaneously, H. V. Kaltenborn takes time off from his Columbia talks to meet lecture engagements.
