FREDERICTON JUNE 17 1880.

The readers of this journal are hereby informed, that Fredericton is the Capital of New Brunswick, and that York Point, and Marsh Bridge, and Reed's Castle, and MacEvoys, and the old Bell Tower, and Partridge Island, all remain just as they were!

VOICES FROM NEWFOUNDLAND.

It is only natural that the Editor of the STAR should take a great interest in the affairs of Newfoundland. He has taken much interest in her affairs, and has said the little he can, whenever the opportunity arose. Just now the Island has taken upon her hands a mighty task; a project so momentous that only a very small portion of the population have the remotest idea of the magnitude of the undertaking. The result may be a great success, it may be an utter failure. All we can say, and all we can offer is what we have learnt from the experience of others, and what we see every day going on around us.

A few weeks ago we wrote a lengthy notice on the subject, and printed at the same time a letter from a correspondent here, who takes a good deal of unselfish interest in the welfare of the Colony. On the article, the St. John's N. F. Patriot says:

On the first page to-day will be found a friendly article about our contemplated Railroad. We cannot be too thankful for the observations of the Fredericton STAR, who cautions us, by the experience of New Brunswick, from recklessly catching the Railway mania which is said to have plunged that Province into financial difficulties. This is wise advice that ought not to be disregarded, and we entirely agree with him, that before we attempt to go further than Avalon we should be by all means be sure of our gains, and not to be repented of a Rail through a country entirely unsettled, and only partially explored. The writer very discreetly desires us to consider what this colony expects to gain from the line being extended across the entire Island; and thinks that the summer travel from Europe would by no means warrant us to think of the project unassisted; and that Europe and the Continent of America which would be the greatest gainers, ought aid an undertaking of such gigantic proportions. We agree with him that had we any idea of pushing the line further than the Diamond, the assistance of a necessary

The Patriot then goes on to say he does not think it is the intention of the Government to build the line across the Island, though the STAR never opposed such a project. And just as we expected the Patriot continues:

Our friend the editor of the STAR (who is a native of Newfoundland) gives this colony also some wholesome advice; but he seems to have no good opinion of any other than the "theoretical abilities" of our Geologist, Sir Alexander Murray and his Assistant, Mr. Howley. He doesn't seem to like "Reports" upon our Forests and cultivable Lands. He says these reports "would only afford laughing stock for men living in Canada who know good land from bad land, and good forests from bad forests. If necessary we can substantiate all we say in this regard." Well, we certainly should like to see our friend "substantiate" that Mr. Murray's Reports upon our UNSURPASSED FORESTS and FERTILE LANDS, (corroborated not only by his assistant Mr. Howley, but by the Very Rev Thomas Sears, and a host of unprejudiced and experienced people)—were all imaginary, had no existence in fact, and were mere optical illusions. But we fear our friend of the STAR was not unbiased when he made those remarks respecting our forests and lands—forests particularly. Some of his

New Brunswick friends, we shrewdly suspect, feel a strong interest in Newfoundland Forests and wish to make it appear that NEWFOUNDLAND has no forests of Pine or Birch, or any kind of timber at all worth the Lumberers' consideration! whilst some of those very people have been squatting upon our lands for years and cutting and converting into the best lumber millions of tons, without paying a cent to the Government of the Colony for the privilege; and now only when the Government has interfered with their wholesome free-booting and plundering, and put a stop to their unauthorized trespassing upon the public lands—they cry out against Sir Alexander Murray, who first opened the eyes of the Government to the invaluable treasure the colony possesses in her Forests of timber and cultivable Lands, and insinuate that he and his Assistant know nothing of good lands or good forests! We may be doing an injustice to our friend of the STAR in attributing his remarks to the whisperings of interested parties;—if we are wrong he must forgive us, for we think that the Newfoundlanders who know Sir Alexander Murray, and who regards his country so lovingly as to wish that "the sun of prosperity may never set behind those hills dearer to him than any other in all this world besides," could never of his own mere motion endeavor to belittle and disparage in the eyes of strangers the Land of his Birth. In what we have said, we have no wish to offend our contemporary, and we utter only in the cause of Truth.

The Patriot need not be alarmed about offending the STAR, for the STAR is able to make due allowance for its contemporary's weakness. We knew when we offered a word of advice to the people of our native country we would be accused of having an "axe to grind," as an Island paper elegantly put it a year ago. We are almost reminded of the poor creatures who ran wild through the American forests after the time of Columbus, mistaking every civilized person, not even excepting the gospel to them. Timorous souls like those presiding over the august destinies of the Patriot—and we presume friend Parsons is the man there—are actually afraid that the cunning and intelligent New Brunswickers will go over some day and stuff all the Island into their pockets and come away with it. Bless your souls, dear but nervous brethren, New Brunswickers have forest lands enough of their own, and ten times more than they can turn to account. They do not want your few sticks or your million acres of pine and white birch—keep it till the next century, or till the fire come and destroy it at one fell swoop. What do you want saw mills, and a timber trade to give employment to thousands for, so long as you can dream over Sir Alexander Murray's reports, so long as you can lie down and think of pines 60 feet high without knot or blemish! The theory in itself is worth millions—let Newfoundland hug her darling phantom, and let the press of the Island, the Patriot always taking the lead, defend that phantom with its life's blood.

No writer in the STAR, nor in New Brunswick "wishes to make it appear that Newfoundland has no forests of pine, &c." though there are persons living not a half mile away from the STAR office who have travelled up the Gambo and Gander Rivers, and who have a much clearer idea of the quantity of timber in this region than Sir Alexander Murray, and all his assistants put together. The Patriot oughtn't to write in such a whimsical way; and it ought to retract the sentence just above quoted.

We stated that Mr. Murray did not know good land from bad land, (neither does he) and the Patriot asks us to "substantiate" this. Yes. Get a copy of his report, and read what he says of the excellent land covered over with a fine growth of WHITE BIRCH. If Sir Alexander knew anything about land he would know that white birch generally grows upon the coal measures, and that wherever it grows the land is no good. This is true all over America and there is no reason to think the principle miscarries in Newfoundland. We do not remember the place in the report where Sir Alexander makes this ridiculous statement, but we shall hunt it up for a future issue.

go over and "cut millions of tons" of lumber every year, without paying anything to the Government, might be so handled as to make the Newfoundland Government appear a lot of imbeciles for allowing them to do so; but we have no desire to make the inhabitants of our own dear Isle appear at all to disadvantage.

As was to have been expected at a late meeting of the stockholders of the Carleton Branch Railway, the lease given by the late stockholders was repudiated. Only three voted repudiation, twelve voted against it. But the three controlled the preponderance of shares, and the lease must go up before the courts. We have not the slightest doubt but the lease is valid, and will be so declared by the court. Mr. Kay's employers again will be made to bleed freely.

PARTIES in Boston and New York are taking a good deal of interest in the iron mines of Carleton County. There is not attention enough given to the mineralogy of the Province.

OUIDA's name has puzzled philologists. It was one time said she called herself Ouida for Louisa when, a little girl, she could speak the word no plainer. The correct version seems to be that her father, although a naturalized Englishman, was of French origin, and French was in consequence the young lady's vernacular. To any question which necessitated an affirmative reply Mlle. de la Rame could never content herself with a simple "oui," it was invariably "oui-da," "most certainly."

WELL, are the City Council yet of the opinion we want no police? What do they conclude from the past week's transactions?

The Tower Case will be argued next week before the full Bench. The Chief Justice reserved a number of points for such hearing.

RIVIERE DU LOUP Notes, Newcastle correspondence and other interesting matter is crowded out till next issue.

A LOT of "poetry" is accumulating on our hands, which we must try to dispose of as soon as possible.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER will not leave for Winnipeg till cabinet business concludes.

If the present drought continue a few weeks longer, the crops will be seriously injured.

JUDGE WELDON has not yet made up his mind to retire.

The cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.
