THE REV. WM. ELDER, M. P. P.

"Once a Priest, a Priest forever."

We suppose it has never occurred to the House of Assembly, much less to the Rev. William Elder, that Mr. W. Elder, M. P. P., illegally holds his seat in the Legislature. As some goodly members may have some doubts upon this question, we shall cite the law for their information. We first shall quote from "second Revised Statutes, page 124, 58 George III, chap 24:

"An Act to exclude a certain description of persons from acting as Representatives in General Assembly.

Whereas it is expedient that persons who are engaged as Spiritual Guides and Teachers in the profession of Religious faith and worship should abstain as much as possible from secular affairs;

Be it therefore enacted, etc. (1) From and after the passing of this Act, no person shall be capable of being elected a member to serve in Assembly or of sitting and voting therein, who shall be a Minister of the Church of England, or of the Church of Scotland, or a Minister, Priest, Ecclesiastic, or Teacher, under any form or profession of religious faith or worship whatever. (2) This act shall not be in force until His Majesty's Royal approbation be thereunto had and declared."

This Act was especially ratified by an order of the King in Council, February 6th, 1821, and was published and declared in this Province on the 12th of June, 1821.

At that time of course the law was considered the next thing to ridiculous because ministers then stuck fast to their pulpits, and like Sir Joseph Porter never went to sea,—or entered politics.

The above Act was repealed as will be seen by Consolidated Statutes, chap 120, page 979. But by the change politically minded priests or parsons derive little comfort: for here is the enactment in its stead, and the law to-day of this Province: it is in Chapter 3, page 85, under the title "Elections to the General Assembly, sections 21:"

"No person shall be capable of being elected a member to serve in the Assembly, or if sitting or voting therein, who shall be a Minister, Priest, or Ecclesiastic, under any form or profession of religious faith or worship whatever."

A FEW "INSPIRED" REFLECTIONS.

Here then is the law, and if any hon. member of the House, Didymus-like, will doubt it, let him open the statutes. Mr Elder is only a member by sufferance: and he has no more right on the floors of the House than Murray Kay had—comparing, of course, great things to small. The moment any member rises in his place, to a question of privilege, and asks by what right Mr Elder holds his seat and votes in the House, that moment, we say, the rev-gentleman's political days are numbered. Mr Elder never can be qualified to sit and vote in our Provincial Parliament while the law we have quoted remains upon the book. He may act of course in the capacity of chaplain, but this is the furthest, legally, he can go. There is not a minister in the Province better fitted to sit in the House of Assembly, or that we should rather see sit there, than Rev. William Elder, but that does not alter the case so long as the law upon the books places ministers, priests and doctrinal teachers upon the schedule. For example, we should like to see both their lordships, "Sweeney" and "Fredericton" take their seats in the House, because both, we assume, are very good scholars, and very good living men: but with all these qualifications, did they occupy seats, since the law cries out Ne sutor ultra crepidam, we should ask for their removal.

There is many an honorable gentleman in the House to-day who has felt the sacerdotal sting of the parson legislator: and if any little bit of vengeance rankle within these members' breasts, they can by a simple question of privilege remove at once and forever the man who, secure in his own way of thinking in his glass house, mercilessly pelts stones at his neighbors as they pass him. The House durst not ignore the laws it has placed the Provincial seal upon, and Mr Elder has according to those laws no more right to sit and vote in our New Brunswick Legislature than Messenger Paisley has.

"WHO ENTERS HERE LEAVES HOPE BEHIND."

This inscription Dante saw written over hell's portal; but the text is good for the man who consecrates his body and soul to the service of his Maker. Once the man puts on the robes of the apostle, he leaves all worldly hope behind; for in the language of ecclesiastical law, which canon has been recognized by the law of the land, "once a priest, a priest forever." Once a minister is ordained, he is a minister for life: the mark is like the brand seared on by the burning iron, and it never can be effaced. 'Tis true the sinner like the black sheep among the twelve may forsake his master, but all the same he was a priest even while he slipped the noose over his head. And he is yet a priest, though doubtless tortured by devils and

"Ever burning sulphur unconsumed,"

—condemned to burn for all eternity for repudiating his calling. Observe you here, the law so considers the case, for it does not say an active minister, but plain minister, priest, etc. It is only the tribunal that makes a law that has power to set aside that law: this being true both of Ecclesiastical law and the law of the land. Marriage, for example, is contracted in a legal sense, and by virtue of certain laws, but the same authority has to step in to proclaim the divorce. But there is no precedent where the priest once made has ever been unmade, and therefore, even though the power to do so rested with the ordaining body, Mr Elder has been duly made a minister: but the body so ordaining him has not unmade him. Ergo he is yet a parson. Of course he may be able to produce a certificate of Dis-ordination.

And the man who wrote that law knew it referred to the silent minister just as it did to the active minister, and as a Tribunal that is above all tribunals made Mr. Elder the man, Mr. Elder the priest, no man, not even himself, could undo the Act. He may soil his robes by contact with a sinful world, he may throw them off, but the seal is not set on the garments, but in the soul and that spiritual stamp he can no more efface than the leopard can change his spots.

We have consulted the best legal advice on this question, and we know right well whereof we speak. Every vote Mr. Elder has given has been a worthless vote, every speech he has made on ethics and right, has simply been a sermon in the wrong pulpit. We have no notion of letting this question drop, and as we have said before, we are acting under the best legal advice in the country. But it is the duty of some honorable member to bring up a question of privilege.

WILLIAM WILMOT, father of the late Judge, was unseated in the Legislature because he was a "local" preacher.

Joseph Crandal, member for Westmorland, was unseated for the same offence. Vide the Journals.

A FALSEHOOD NAILED.

ANOTHER FALSEHOOD BY KILLAM'S ORGAN.

Invincible ignorance and disrespect for truth and character, are the leading and indeed the only features of the St. John Sun. That paper could not transfer our report of the winter's lumbering operations on the Miramichi into its columns without indulging in its usual vile insinuations. But with these we shall not trouble ourselves: our object being to expose its ignorance. It says: "The figures being official they are no doubt correct," and then it insinuates fraud in the department of Crown Lands. The figures might have been official, but that 45,000,000 feet of the quantity mentioned were cut on grant ed lands. We thought the most most ignorant and silly editor in the Province, not even the Fredericton Reporter's Editor excepted knew the Crown Lands' office had no "official" record of lumber cut on private lands. Here is the largest portion of our report, and every one must see what a laughing stock Mr Livingston has made of himself:

	Feet.	Feet.
Charles Smith, on Rocky Brook, South West Miramichi and Clearwater Streams.....	1,000,000
T. Lynch, on Burnt Hill Brook, McKiel's Brook, and North Branch S. W. Miramichi.....	5,500,000
Gilman and Brown, on Taxis River.....	6,000,000
H. Turnbull, on Clearwater Stream.....	2,000,000
Scott Fairley, on Dungarvon Brook.....	1,500,000
Total operations of Guy, Bevan and & Co,.....		22,000,000
WILLIAM RICHARDS.
David Richards, on South West Miramichi.....	1,000,000
Wm. Best, on South-West Miramichi.....	500,000
Sanson and Richards, on Taxis River.....	2,000,000
Jno. Kelly, on Taxis River,	500,000
Sanson and Sanson, on Jewett Brook,.....	1,000,000
Total operations of William Richards,.....
John Fairley, on Taxes River and South West Miramichi.....	8,000,000

The Province does not own a foot of the land above, yet the Sun inspired by Mr. Killam says we got the information from the Crown Land Office, and that the Provincial Secretary ought to be able to estimate his Budget on it!! It will be seen what a valuable financier Mr Killam would be: for were he estimating the Provincial revenues he would have started out with an error of $28,000 on the Miramichi waters alone, all the rest no doubt in proportion. St. John with its dun atmosphere and its "fog and filthy air" is not much enlightened by the Ignis fatuus lamp that the unprincipled Mr. John Livingston manages.

THE RAILROAD INVESTIGATION

THE committee on the N. B. R. R. met this morning at 10.30 o'clock and Mr Gibson was also there by request. The notorious Fred. W. Brown, who seems to be Prosecutor General, was not ready to go on with the case, so Mr Gibson very properly refused to be present again at 2.30. When asked if he would attend at 7.30 p. m., he said he could not say, but that perhaps he might.

We do not know why the committee should allow this Brown before them at all; for it is a well known fact he is a chronic nuisance, hateful to every body, and particularly hateful to himself. The people about the Falls, indeed everyone who knows him, hate him most cordially, and are of the opinion that he "is getting childish now." We have no doubt but he is, and this is why it was quite ridiculous to give him a hearing at all.

Mr. Brown has been (of course he is childish now) a general enemy to any project in which he had not a hand. It is said, we don't know how truly, he instigated the barbarians along the line above the Falls to place traps along the track in the hope of destroying the train: at anyrate he was so malicious that he drove to Woodstock on an old horse with its shaven tail, rather than travel by the road which he is now trying to compel Mr. Gibson to open up.

We think it is an outrage that a worthless fellow like Mr Brown should be empowered, for the sake of venting his poisonous wrath, to drag a gentlemen like Mr. Gibson away from his business. Mr. Gibson has innumerable matters to take up all his moments, but Brown has nothing to do but go around the country, as he is always doing, breeding mischief, and trying to work the destruction of something that does not meet his disordered views. Gentlemen like Mr. Gibson, who has not time to trifle away, ought to be protected from the malice of worthless fellows who have nothing to do but disturb and annoy men who are useful to their fellowmen.

CAN IT BE TRUE?

Is it not shocking the way the Moncton Times speaks about Mr. Elder? It says he was in favor of the Capital and adds:

There was the hollow ring of insincerity throughout his speech. His whole aim seemed to be to say just enough to keep himself all right with his constituents, and not enough to offend any of his lady friends in Fredericton; for, it must be said, Mr Elder is noted in society circles as a ladies' man. Fair hands were shaken at him threateningly while he was on his feet, and his notes were mixed up with delicately scented little missives containing playful threats of ostracism in case he was hard on Fredericton. What in such circumstances could he do? * * * * *

This is the kind of scrape a susceptible man often gets into who goes abroad without the protection of his wife, and yet these men are only too ready to act without such protection.

We wonder now if there isn't some truth in all this. But further on, the Times says the uncouth editor of the Sun made no allowance for Mr Elder's weakness. It says:

His mind is too practical to realize the weight of such subtle influences. He failed to allow for the snobbish desire for high-toned society, and the small gallantry that makes old men hang round pretty women.

But this is shocking!—and there is more yet. There were other influences so the Times says and here they are:

Mr. Gibson, and his New Brunswick Company, wielded all the moulding powers they possess. Father McDevitt and Bishop Medley united in bringing members under the burning focus of their spiritual lenses.

What a bad tongue that magistrate has to be sure!

A St. John newspaper, in a patronizing kind of way states that Mr. Ritchie is a very good lawyer, and has an "excellent and steadily increasing practice." We only wish the statements were true!
