TEMPERANCE COLUMN.

THIS DEPARTMENT IS CONDUCTED BY THE W. C. T. U.

TEMPERANCE DEPARTMENT IN THE SUNDAY SCHOOLS OF NOVA SCOTIA.

Nova Scotia ladies seem to be fully as much interested in this column as those of this province. Indeed, they have been more prompt in their response to requests for contributions on subjects connected with their work. In reply to a question concerning the history and methods of operating the temperance department in Sunday schools Mrs. Laura J. Potter of Canning, N. S., superintendent of that department, writes:

About twenty years ago a gentleman was walking one evening in Halifax, when he was grieved by the conduct and language of a number of boys whom he met. As the boy is father to the man, he was impressed to do something for those boys. The Sunday school came to his mind as solving the problem; to have a pledge in the Sunday school, a three-fold pledge, one against liquors, tobacco and profanity, and teach the boys to keep it was his idea. That night by midnight the constitution and by-laws were written and the idea had become a thought out plan. It is simple in its machinery, having only a superintendent and secretary for its officers, who do the work usually assigned to those offices. It appropriates the quarterly temperance Sundays and is designed to make them a force in the schools.

The teacher comes in touch with the individual scholar and much personal work is done. Some teachers do not feel at ease in teaching a temperance lesson to a class of girls who perhaps have come from Christian homes and there is no probability of any of them becoming addicted to the use of strong drink. One teacher in particular felt in this way and brought her difficulty to one who had thought deeply on the different phases of temperance work, her answer was: "You teach missionary lessons to your class of girls and they never can be heathen, but you do so to prepare them for active service for those who sit in darkness. Your girls will grow to be women, make homes for themselves and perhaps be leaders in society, you want them to be earnestly active in this great reform and use all their influence on the side of the right in the question of temperance reform."

During the first years of its existence it was in a state of probation, being matched, tested and perfected. It was brought before Miss Frances Willard and received her entire approbation; also that of the maritime and dominion W. C. T. U., and in all won nothing but praises for the simplicity of its working and the possibilities which lie before it. Seven years ago it was adopted into the Nova Scotia Sunday School Association as one of its departments, and having its superintendent. Pledges there had been before in the schools, and many earnest workers were endavoring to teach the young the principles of total abstinence, but never before as an organized department, teaching total abstinence from the high plane of God's word, causing the young to see the beauty of a pure, noble life saved for God, and to help lift mankind nearer to the ideal life lived by our great Example.

Since then other provinces have wished to follow the example of Nova Scotia and have adopted this department into their associations, using chiefly our pledges, constitution and by-laws, but we are sorry to add, not our name or badge. Therefore we are not showing the united front to the army of King Alcohol as we would desire. New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Quebec have organized this department, Ontario for some reason is in the rear, not yet having adopted it, but the W. C. T. U. there is pushing this good work in the Sunday schools. From Ontario to the Pacific the cry comes, "Tell us what you do and how you do it, that we may go and do likewise." The new provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan are inquiring concerning the temperance department, they have such a tide of evil to stem with so many foreigners coming there to make it their homes, bringing the customs and habits of their own land. This department is also taking root in the United States, several of which have organized the temperance department in their state association.

The mission of this department in the Sunday school is not only to make the young people who attend these schools total abstainers, but to train them to use their influence at home and abroad, at business and in the polling booth for the suppression of the liquor traffic.

A CALL FOR THE OBSERVANCE OF WORLD'S TEMPERANCE SUNDAY.

The Fourth Sunday in November of each year has been designated "World's Sunday School Temperance Sunday."

The highest ecclesiastical bodies of nearly all denominations have given recognition to this day. The appointment is also made by the International Sunday School Convention, through the International Lesson committee, and provision is made for a World's Sunday School Temperance Lesson: I. Corinthians, 10: 23-33.

The drink curse is world-wide, and young people in particular should be taught that it is a crime against the nation and a sin against God. It is fitting, therefore, that the subject be presented from both national and personal points of view.

We, therefore, call upon all pastors, Sunday school superintendents and teachers, all W. C. T. U. workers in the Sunday school and all friends of temperance teaching in the Sunday school to make the observance of World's Sunday School Temperance Sunday, November 26th, a notable occasion. Let it be the great annual temperance field day for the Sunday schools of the world.

To establish the work of temperance in our Sunday schools we would recommend the organization of the Temperance Army, as adopted by the N. B. Sunday School Association.

CONSTITUTION.

1. Temperance work shall be carried on under the name of the New Brunswick Temperance Army of the..... Sunday School.

2. The work shall be under the direction of a superintendent and secretary to be appointed by each school.

3. The Sabbath devoted to the Temperance lesson shall be taken for this work, when the superintendent and secretary may prepare a programme, which shall be submitted to the Sunday school superintendent for his approval and co-operation.

4. At these temperance sessions the pledge book will be presented, and efforts made to secure signatures thereto.

5. Any person may become a member by signing the following pledge:

"I solemnly promise, God being my helper, that I will not use as a beverage any spirituous or malt liquor, or other intoxicating drink, by whatever name called, and will use every honorable means to discourage the sale and use of them by others."

(A certificate of membership shall be given to each person signing the above pledge.)

6. The following optional pledges against tobacco and profanity shall be used in this Temperance Army.

Pledge against Tobacco:—"I hereby promise, God being my helper, that I will not use tobacco in any form, and will make every honorable effort to prevent its use by others."

Pledge against Profanity:—"I hereby promise, God being my helper, not to use any profane language, and will do all in my power to discourage it in others."

7. The badge of the Temperance Army shall be a piece of narrow blue ribbon.

Red, white and blue cards, containing the liquor pledge, are used to form "Pledge Chains." These are interesting and attractive features of the department work and are constantly growing in favor.

"Recognition of the existence of any evil is an indispensable preliminary to the discovery of a remedy."

Nov. 26 is World's Temperance Sunday. In all English speaking countries and in several foreign lands the millions of children in the Sunday schools will be studying about the evil effects of alcoholic liquors. During the previous week hundreds of thousands of teachers will be casting about to find fresh material with which to make interesting this old but ever pressing question. Many will slight the lesson and make nothing of it (losing an unrivalled opportunity), because they have no new facts or incidents with which to garnish the time-worn topic. It is to meet this need and prevent this lamentable neglect that the Ontario Union publishes its Quarterly Temperance Leaf.

"I desire to give my unqualified commendation to the Ontario W. C. T. U. Temperance Lesson Leaf. I wish particularly that the one dealing with the Sunday school lesson for March 12, 1905, could be brought before every boy in the land. The cigarette habit is most alarming, and it is a great duty of thoughtful people to do everything in their power for its suppression. To the W. C. T. U. great credit is due for their splendid work in this direction, and may God speed them, not only in this, but also in their efforts against the terrible evils of intemperance."—Rev. J. P. Gerrie, Stratford, Ont.

"I think that the W. C. T. U. Temperance Lesson is perfect. I use the word 'perfect' with its definition in my mind. There is nothing in that lesson that ought to be out of it, and nothing out of it that ought to be in it. Besides which, it is harmonized and proportioned so ably."—Rev. Geo. A. McKenzie, Forest, Ont.

Order now, because the leaflets—to be of any real use—must be distributed Sunday, Nov. 19.

Prices—Single copies, 2 cents; 10 cents per dozen; 50 cents per 100; $4 per 1,000. Any order less than 100, 10 cents per dozen, or 2 cents per copy.

For constitution, pledges and all kinds of temperance helps for Sunday schools apply to Mrs. Jeannette C. Bullock, Germain street, St. John.

More than one man has been called crazy for advertising largely, but no one seems to remember his aberration after he makes a comfortable fortune.—Paper and Printing Journal.

HARCOURT.

HARCOURT, N. B., Oct. 26.—Rev. A. D. Archibald of Rexton, was in Harcourt yesterday visiting Andrew Dunn. Mr. Archibald was returning from a session of the home department committee of Presbyterian Sunday school work at Halifax.

Mrs. J. Larkin Morton returned to Kent Junction today. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ernest Warman of Campbellton, daughter of Wm. J. Hetherington of Mortmore, is visiting at Kent Junction.

Mrs. Leslie J. Wathan and Miss Stella G. Wilson came home from Moncton yesterday. L. J. Wathen returned from Moncton Tuesday.

At the residence of J. M. Ford, Millranch, last night, the Methodists held an entertainment to help pay for painting their church. It was well patronized.

Miss Ruby Dunn and Miss Harnett, both of Mt. Allison Academy, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stephen M. Dunn, the former's parents.

Yesterday Mrs. W. G. Thurber went to Sussex to visit Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Freebern.

CITY NEWS.

Recent Events in and Around St John.

WE MUST GO from heated rooms to the cold outer air, and the change sets us coughing. Curing winter colds is not hard if you take Allen's Lung Balsam. A neglected cold is troublesome and dangerous.

The fine weather gave the people an opportunity to thoroughly enjoy Thanksgiving Day. There was no lack of festivities either. The presence in the city of His Serene Highness Prince Louis and the arrival of the two cruisers contributed an unusual spice of gayety to the life of the city.

A good many people left the city to spend the holiday with the old folks or with their sweethearts, but there were enough left to fill the churches and the theatres, and to fill the streets when his highness passed in his carriage.

Special Thanksgiving services were held in a number of the churches. At Trinity church the celebration consisted of a short service at nine-thirty. Thanksgiving prayers were the chief feature. At St. Andrew's the service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Lang, the pastor, who was assisted by Rev. J. D. Cunningham of Toronto, now supplying at St. Stephen's church, and Rev. W. S. Pritchard, pastor of the Congregational church. Both of these gentlemen made brief addresses. In St. David's Rev. A. A. Graham spoke from Ps. iv., and 11, and delivered an interesting address.

At Queen square Methodist church Rev. G. M. Campbell preached an appropriate sermon. In the Waterloo street United Baptist church, Rev. Mr. Bamford of the west side was the preacher.

ABRAM V. PRICE OF HAVELOCK DEAD

J. Milton Price, barrister, of the firm og Stockton & Price, received a telegram yesterday afternoon announcing the death of his father, Abram V. Price, at North Woodstock, New Hampshire. The late Mr. Price, who was a prominent farmer at Havelock, Kings Co., went to North Woodstock a short time ago on a visit and while there, was taken ill with typhoid fever. On Tuesday Milton Price received a telegram to the effect that his father was very low and that no hopes were entertained for his recovery.

Deceased leaves, besides a widow, four daughters and three sons. They are Misses Ethel, Nellie, Alberta, and Maggie, and Charles, Ralph and Milton, all living at home except the latter.

Mr. Price was about fifty-eight years of age, and a son of the late Nelson Allan Price of Havelock, who was one of the first members of the Price family to come to this country. Rev. Isaac G. Price of New York, and Rev. J. W. Price of Atkinson, Me., are brothers of the deceased, and Dr. Price of Germain street, this city, and Dr. L. V. Price of Moncton, are cousins. A. J. Russell, manufacturing confectioner of St. John, is a nephew.

Mr. Price was an Episcopalian and was one of the best known residents of Kings county.

Arrangements have been made to have the body taken to Havelock for burial, and it will probably reach here on Friday.

HARCOURT WEDDINGS.

HARCOURT, Oct. 26.—Yesterday, Rev. R. Hensley Stavert united tw couples in the holy bonds of matrimoney. In the afternoon, at the residence of John M. Ward, Mortimore, his daughter, Miss Julia May, was married to Frank H. Ward of Buctouche. Nearly one hundred guests assembled to testify to the popularity of the young couple. They were attended by Miss Ella Ward, the bride's sister, and Wm. Dryden of Moncton. The bride's costume was white silk with tamoline trimmings, and she carried a bouquet of carnations. The bridesmaid was dressed in blue nun's veiling with white silk trimmings and allover lace. The groom's present to the bride was a gold locket and chain. Among the other presents were many valuable silver and other articles. The couple will live in Moncton, where Mr. Ward is employed in the Record foundry.

Last night the home of Andrew Hudson of Coal Branch was the scene of a festive event, when his daughter, Miss Bessie, was led to the altar by Wendell B. Sherwood, son of Andrew Sherwood of Norton. The bride was neatly dressed in grey silk and unattended.

ST. ANDREWS.

ST. ANDREWS, N. B., Oct. 24.—The October term of the Charlotte County court was opened at 11 o'clock today by County Court Judge J. L. Carleton. James J. G. Stevens, jr., clerk of the court, occupied his usual place. There was only one cause entered, Smith and Anthony, Boston, v. Maurice McGarrity and Michael Regan, St. Stephen. Geo. J. Clarke, barrister, St. Stephen, appeared for the plaintiff; the defendants did not put in an appearance. A verdict for the plaintiff's amount, $240.35, was recorded. The court was then adjourned, sine die.

The sad news was received today of the death at Houlton, Me., of the wife of Frank Mowat. The remains will be brought here by the C. P. R. on Thursday for interment in the rural cemetery. Funeral from All Saints church at two o'clock Thursday.

Edward Fortune arrived today by str. H. F. Eaton from Boston, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mallory are being congratulated on having arrived at the status of grand parents, a son having been born on the 22nd of September at Pretoria, to their son, Edwin P., and his wife.

NOVA SCOTIA APPLES DISHONESTLY MARKED.

Fruit Dealers Complain of Lack of Inspection—Worthless Apples Sold for Number Ones.

There is great dissatisfaction among fruit dealers over the apple trade in this city, both as regards the packing done in Nova Scotia and the inspection here. It is stated that the duties of the inspector as carried out are to see that the barrels are all marked with the packer's name, the variety of fruit and the classification. If the marking is all right the barrels are passed, and no attention is paid to the quality of the fruit, to see whether it corresponds with the markings.

The apple inspector, Barton Gandy, told the Sun some time ago that he did not inspect the apples, but that his duty was to inspect the marking.

This is what the dealers are kicking about. They state that such an inspection is not only absolutely worthless, but is the cause of a great deal of trouble. This season, even more than usual, is a thorough inspection needed.

E. A. Goodwin, who probably handles more apples for the local trade than any other dealer in the city, when seen by the Sun yesterday was more inclined to show the actual condition of affairs than to talk about it. Barrel after barrel of apples he opened, all coming from Nova Scotia. The top layer in every case consisted of fair sized apples, but spotted, and by no means first class fruit. But all the rest of the barrels were filled with miserable little scabby specimens which no self-respecting housewife would feel like putting on her table. Yet all these barrels were marked number ones, and all bore the packers' names. They were all from Nova Scotia, as stated above, but all were not from the same packer.

Mr. Goodwin said: "It is nothing more than stealing for a man to put up and sell us such rubbish as this. They are marked number ones, but a packer who would pass them off on his customers for number threes ought to be prosecuted for obtaining money under false pretenses. These apples in the top layer would be fair number twos if they were not scabby, but the rest of the fruit is in no class—it is just rubbish.

"I have given up buying Nova Scotian fruit. In other years I bought largely and kept a stock on hand, but now I won't buy a barrel unless it is ordered from me, and then my customer knows what he is going to get.

"And we have to pay for this stuff, too. These fifteen barrels that I bought on an order today cost $3.50 each, and sell at $3.75. This is almost as much as real number one fruit would bring.

"There has never this season, so far as I know, been one wholly honest load of apples from Nova Scotia. There may be some honest packers, and no doubt there are, but when the fruit comes all mixed up in one shipment I find that fully half of it is falsely marked. It is unjust to us, and to the people, and some proper inspection is badly needed. New Brunswick might be easily the best market for Nova Scotian growers. It is handy, the prices paid are high, and all grades of fruit are accepted if properly marked, but there is so much dishonest packing that dealers here are giving up the Nova Scotian fruit, and soon the packers there will have to feed the stuff to their cattle. We are fast coming to depend upon Ontario for our good fruit. Up there the law is the same, but when a barrel of Ontario apples is marked number one the fruit inside it will be found to correspond with the markings. The inspection there is properly conducted and the packers know that it is to their advantage to properly mark their fruit."

ST. JOHN MAN WAS WITH LIVINGSTONE.

There is a man living in St. John who accompanied the famous explorer Livingstone on his voyage of exploration up the Zambesi River in Africa. This man is Edward Cotter of 20 North street, for seventeen years a royal navy man, now 70 years old.

He was born in Cork and joined the navy in the year 1855. He was drafted on to the Cornwallis, one of the squadron of five war vessels which sailed up the Baltic during the Crimean war. On August 10, 1855 they bombarded the seaport of Ivenburg for more than eight hours. In May, 1858 Mr. Colter was on the Hermes when it took the celebrated explorer Dr. David Livingstone to the Zambesi River. The Hermes could not get over the bar at the mouth of the river but boats were launched and Mr. Colter with others of the crew, sailed and rowed 395 miles up the river as far as the Falls of Nyanza. Mr. Colter took his discharge on March 20, 1872.

WHITE HOUSE TEAM HAS BEEN FOUND

Horse and Faithful Dog Alive After Long Exposure.

BATHURST, N. B., Oct. 25.— The passenger team of the White House, which mysteriously disappeared from the hotel door on the night of Oct. 9th, was found yesterday about fourteen miles from town in a portage road leading to Nine Mile brook, by a number of men on their way to a lumber camp. The dog Oscar, which had also been missing from the hotel, was found still alive, watching the team, and when the horse, which was almost dead, was taken to a neighboring house, the dog still remained by the wagon, and food and drink had to be carried to him. Both animals were almost dead from starvation and exposure. It is not yet known if the horse will pull through. It appears certain that the team was stolen and abandoned in this out-of-the-way place, and the thieves are supposed to be men who wished to reach some of the lumber camps.

STRAPPED FAINTING CHILD.

Startling Charge Against a Toronto School Principal—Also Severely Punished Delicate Boy.

(Toronto Globe.)

For alleged brutal punishment of a little girl and boy Principal E. A. Stevens of the Manning Avenue Public School has been suspended by Chief Inspector Hughes and Chairman Brown of the Board of Education. The Management Committee will on Wednesday decide on final action in the matter.

The charges are definite, but Mr. Stevens considers his use of the strap no more than a performance of his duty.

Mr. Stevens has been a teacher in the Toronto public schools for 22 years, and for some time has had the reputation of being a vigorous disciplinarian.

A specific charge was laid against him last week in a letter from Mr. A. J. Pattison, Managing Director of the Home Life Association, to Trustee Levee. His complaint runs as follows:—

"I am told by my cashier, who has been with me for a number of years, that her little sister, Flossie Laughton, was brutally treated in the Manning Avenue School on Wednesday. This little girl was threatened with punishment for some trifling misdemeanor. She did not wish to take the punishment. It appears that the Principal and his assistant approached her, one in each aisle, and so terrified the little girl that she fainted away. In this condition each of these two brutes dragged her by the hands across the room and out into the hall, where she was punished. Her hands this morning show the effects of the punishment."

Following the receipt of this came another letter to Trustee Levee from Mr. Thomas Davis, 178 Euclid avenue, whose son, it is alleged, was so severely whipped by Mr. Stevens that he has since suffered from sleeplessness and complete loss of appetite. The recipient of this treatment is said to be a frail, delicate child of ten.

Mr. Davis says: "The offence, if you can call it so, is this: A boy friend came into the classroom to deliver some message or parcel, and my son, who sits near the door, noticed him and in a low tone said, 'Hello, Harry!' Thereupon he was sent down to the Principal's room and was made stand there from 9.45 to 11 a. m. without recess. Then he was called into the cloakroom and strapped eleven times on the hands and wrists so severely that when he reached home they were badly swollen and inflamed."

Both correspondents emphatically demanded that the matter be looked into. Mr. Stevens' suspension followed investigation by Inspector Hughes.

FALL RIVER STRIKE MAY BE AVERTED

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 25.—At the very moment when a strike of more than 20,000 textile operatives employed in seventy-five mills in this city seemed a certainty, the situation suddenly cleared through the action of the Manufacturers' Association and the outlook is brighter than at any time since the wage question has come to the front. Meetings of the various unions of Textile Workers had been called for tonight to take action on the question of calling a strike in all the cotton factories controlled by the members of the Manufacturers' Association. Late this afternoon, however, a committee representing the manufacturers held a conference with a committee from the Textile Council. The manufacturers expressed the hope that a compromise might be reached and requested that the unions take no action on the matter of calling a strike before next Monday night. This request was made, it was explained in order that the manufacturers and operatives, through their representatives might hold further conferences.

The committee representing the Textile Council acquiesced and representatives of the various unions were instructed to bring the request of the manufacturers before the various organizations. At tonight's meetings of the unions, four of the five organizations, the weavers, spinners, carders and loomfixers unions voted unanimously to postpone strike action until next Monday night, when the unions will again meet.

The slashers' union took no action tonight, because that organization is not affiliated with the Textile Council.

A conference between committees representing the manufacturers and operatives will be held at 2.30 o'clock next Monday afternoon.

It is believed in union circles that there will be no strike. The manufacturers have shown a desire to effect a compromise and it is believed the wage question will be satisfactorily adjusted.

WEDDING 50 YEARS AGO; ALL PARTICIPANTS LIVING

OTTAWA, Oct. 25.—Hiram Robinson, for 28 years chairman of the Ottawa public school board, and Mrs. Robinson, today celebrated their fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. From far and near, messages of congratulations and good wishes have been received. Singularly enough, all the participants in the marriage ceremony in Bytown fifty years ago are alive. Dr. Wardrope, now of Guelph, tied the marriage knot, and he is here today for the golden wedding. Both the bridesmaid and groomsman are also alive.

VALUE OF "OZONE."

The value of "Ozone" (it is really liquified Oxygen) is well known to medical science. It kills the germs of internal disorders. If taken in concentrated form, and that means "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" it ensures a speedy cure for asthma, bronchitis, Bright's disease, kidney trouble, malaria and rheumatism. This stringent remedy needs with it a tonic laxative to secure the best results. Your druggist will give you sixteen ounces of "Solution of Ozone (the coupon kind)" for fifty cents, and if you insist on the coupon kind will guarantee a free package of "Celery King." RAID SALOONS ON BORDER LINE

United States Officers Arrest Liquor Smugglers

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 24.—The case of George Morrison of Bridgewater, who was today arraigned before Judge Hale in the United States district court and committed to jail to await the sitting of the grand jury at the December term, on a charge of smuggling liquor, is the third case of this sort brought into court by Deputy United States Marshal Charles B. Haskell within 10 days.

McMullin is about 50 years of age, and has a wife and five children. His store in the village of Baird's Mills is quite a pretentious establishment, a one and one-half story wooden structure, with store in front, and the family living in apartments in the rear. The border line between the Aroostook town of Bridgewater and the Canadian town of Andover is under the centre of the store. Andover is in a no-license county, so the Canadian authorities have had an official interest in the store.

The arrangement of his bar was unique. It consisted of a broad shelf attached to an upright background, resembling a barn door, the background suspended by overhanging trucks fitted to an iron track. At will the proprietor could slide the bar from the Canadian to the American side of his establishment, to evade the Canadian officers who called to look the place over, and re-establish the wet goods department on the provincial side if federal officers lurked about the premises.

He never before had been confronted by an international battery of pursuers. By arrangement a Canadian customs officer and deputy arrived at McMullin's store a half-hour ahead of the Portland deputy. The proprietor saw them coming, and when they reached the store his bar and stock of liquors were on the American side; likewise himself and five members of his family.

He was having a hearty laugh at their fruitless search for contraband goods when a horse was driven into the yard on the Maine side, and Deputy Marshal Haskell jumped out of the wagon, accompanied by Special Deputy Jenks of Houlton, and Deputy Collector V. E. Peters of Bridgewater. McMullin knew the two Aroostook men, but Deputy Haskell's face wasn't familiar to him. Deputy Haskell stepped up to McMullin and slipped on a pair of handcuffs before stopping to explain the nature of the call.
