SUNDAY OBSERVANCE BILL UNDER DISCUSSION

Several Amendments Were Offered and Defeated—Minister of Justice Says Courts Will Determine Meaning of Expression "Works of Necessity or Mercy"—Conditions Under Which Sunday Labor Will be Allowed.

OTTAWA, June 20.—The house spent the afternoon on the Sunday observance bill, which had been begun in the morning. Hon. Mr. Aylesworth offered an amendment to further secure the provisions any Sunday legislation they may have enacted since the conference. Mr. Piche of Montreal moved that all the legislation of the provinces relating to the Sabbath, passed hereafter as well as that passed in the past, should be legalized by the act. He was in favor of the workmen having a day of rest, but thought the province and not the Dominion should provide it for them. The matter was one of provincial jurisdiction. Mr. Aylesworth said the privy council had pronounced on the matter of jurisdiction in declaring the Ontario law ultra vires. The effect of the amendment would be to practically destroy the bill. The federal parliament ought not to shrink responsibility, but should go ahead with the passage of the bill. Mr. Wilfrid said that Mr. Piche claimed provincial rights were being invaded by the bill. Only matters of civil rights had been assigned to the provinces by the act of union. Criminal jurisdiction had been given to the Dominion. Such a law as this was not needed for the provinces, as no one worked there on Sunday. It was needed for the other provinces, particularly those now receiving a large volume of immigration. It was the province of the Dominion to deal with this case. The amendment was declared lost. Mr. Hickerdike asked for an amendment delayed in reaching port by a break down of machinery, to load cargo on Sunday. He suggested the insertion of the word "emergency." Armand Lavergne was told by the minister of justice that the courts would probably determine the meaning

CHATHAM TEACHERS AT SWORDS' POINTS

Principal Cox Made Out Papers and Subordinates Refused to Examine Them. CHATHAM, N. B., June 20.—A survey has been held on the steamer Loyal Briton at Nelson by Portwarden John Ferguson, assisted by Capt. Oscar W. Smith, master mariner, and James Dickens, engineer and machinist. The steamer ran aground at Small Point, Cape Ballard, during a fog, but got off and proceeded to St. Johns, Nfld., where repairs were made under the direction of Lloyd's agent, given a certificate of seaworthiness, and proceeded to this port. After a careful survey of the vessel the portwardens pronounced her seaworthy and eligible to receive her cargo and proceed on her voyage. A tempest in a teapot was settled at last night's session of the school board. The trouble arose over the examining papers. Dr. Cox, the principal of the grammar school, made out the various papers and then requested some of the teachers to examine the papers of their own pupils. This they refused to do, on the ground that they could not examine as accurately as if they set the examinations themselves. The principal endeavored to get them to yield, but all stood off. So at the school board meeting a letter was read from Dr. Cox stating that Messrs. Pullerton and Loggie had refused to accept the papers assigned to them. The members of the board expressed the opinion that it was small work on the part of those concerned, but ordered that Secretary Stothard and the teachers agreed to this.

SOME FAST ONES AT MOOSEPATH

Three Trainers are Located There Working Out Their Several Strings of Horses

There is a nice string of horses at Moosepath in training and all are expected to make a good showing in the coming races throughout the province. Pencheber, a registered mare, is the cream of S. A. Rockford's stable. Her dam is Alceat, by Alcycos, granddam Elenora, by American Clay, 234. She was bred by J. L. Tarleton, Lexington, Ky. When two years old she received a mark of 223, and Nashua last fall. In her last race, was marked at 219. She was entered in the 2.13 pace in Moncton, but the class was not filled, so her first appearance will be on June 25th in Sussex, where she is entered in the 2.20. General Fiske, 2184 will be in the stable for this season. The horse is at present in Boston with his owner, Wm. Neving, and will be the silver cup at Dorchester races a week end. He is entered in the 2.15 class at Sussex on the 12th of July. Kingsborough, by Mary King, is staked up for the races for the coming season in the Maritime provinces. My King, by Mary King, a three year old, is another of Mr. Rockford's string. He will race this horse in the three year old stakes at Halifax and Charlottetown. Both these stallions are brothers of the famous Eleng, who was sold recently for $32,000. Mr. Rockford thinks that Kingsborough will make the grand circuit if he keeps up the form now shown. Both Kingsborough and My King are owned by L. D. Morton, a retired sea captain of Digby. David Brickley has nine horses in his stable at present. Spence B. 2154, heads the list, and is doing very well this year. Those who have seen the horse working are expecting great things from him for the coming year. He is making the last quarter regularly in 33. The Brazilian mare, Gypsy Girl is coming along very nicely and gives promise of being a flyer. Green mare Abetha Wilkes, by Abbot Wilkes, is with Mr. Brickley and is working well. Also Lester W., by Nelson Wilkes. Little Egypt, owned by Robert J. Green, is also doing very well and gives promise of beating 2.30 before the end of the season. The cream of Mr. Brickley's stable is a young mare by Parkside, 2234. She is strong both at the start and finish, and great things are expected of her. Mr. Brickley also has a number of youngsters in his stable. A. W. Rideout has charge of Fred. Duncanson's horses. They are Etta Mae, 221; entered in the 2.21 class in Moncton. Tom Abbott, a black stallion, entered in the 2.23 class in Moncton; and Berline, by Online, 204, entered in the 2.27 race in Moncton, but the class was not filled. Mr. Rockford's mascot, Fannie, is still with him. This dog follows him through the circuit, and is a great friend of all followers of the track.

MUCH INTEREST IN NEWCASTLE CASE

Charge Against Wilbur McLean For Publishing Obscene Literature. NEWCASTLE, N. B., June 20.—The case of the King v. Wilbur McLean, on information of John Galliard, came up for hearing before Police Magistrate Davidson yesterday and was continued today. The accused was arrested on the 18th inst., and is out on a thousand dollar bond. He is charged for issuing and publishing obscene literature. A card was produced in evidence which purported to be very obscene and every alternate line. The case originated with one of the cards coming into possession of Mrs. Bessie Gough through her husband, A. Blacksmith. She handed the card to Mrs. Weidon, an officer of the W. C. T. U., who put the case before that society, which called the matter to the attention of Rev. M. Cuthbert and Father Maguire. The case was then put into the hands of T. B. Butler, clerk of the peace, who instructed Police-man Galliard to proceed. Several witnesses were examined, including parties previously mentioned, and H. B. Anslow, who had no recollection of printing the offending literature. The case was adjourned until Saturday. The defendant was represented by R. T. D. Aitken. It is reported that other prosecutions of similar offenses will take place and also that the prosecutors will endeavor to act against the house which did the printing.

A MONCTON WEDDING.

MONCTON, N. B., June 20.—An interesting wedding took place at half-past one o'clock this afternoon when Miss Beatrice August, daughter of W. Harley Pears, L. C. R., was married to Woodford K. Allen, son of Jacob Allen, of Upper Cape, Botsford. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. B. McAtchy, pastor of the West End United Baptist church. The bride wore a grey travelling suit trimmed with Alice blue and hat to match. About fifty guests were present. They go to Nova Scotia on a wedding trip.

COMMANDER OF THE FAMOUS RURALES

Lieut Col Emilio Kostelitzky

NACO, ARIZ., June 21.—France may have its chateaux d'Afrique, Natal its rangers, but these soldiers of fortune and adventure are not to be compared to the Mexican rurales for interest. Numbering no more than four hundred this unique body of men, with headquarters at Magdalena, Sonora, Mexico, in other words of his might be called the scourgings of the border. Slant, yellow Mexicans, former bad men of both races, cow punchers, overland, but shoots to kill. If it were not for one man, Lieutenant Colonel Emilio Kostelitzky, commander of the corps, typical soldier of fortune, world wanderer, and gentleman adventurer, it is in fact, the little army itself. The others are mere recording machines. Kostelitzky, now sixty years of age, six feet one tall, straight as a pine, with a cavalryman's build, is a true cosmopolitan. He was born in Austria, is French by choice and Mexican by adventure. He has fought under four different flags and won praise for valor every time danger gave him an opportunity of proving it. His name, Kostelitzky, strikes more terror to a Yaqui Indian or a bad man than anything in the category of thought. To them he is the very devil incarnate. Fearless, bold, merciless and impassionate, Kostelitzky is feared, hated, admired and loved, but above all he is feared. They are always on duty, for their territory covers thousands of miles. A detachment may one day be killing a great number of Yaguqs who have been committing depredations, while at the

CARLETON COUNTY EXCITED OVER STRANGE DISCOVERY

Inquiry Confirms Sun's Story of Skeleton Found in Old Cave—Finder Refuses to Reveal Secret of Manuscript Found—Searchers Dynamiting Vicinity For Other Caves and Possible Treasure.

From Thursday's Daily Sun.) GREAT INTEREST IN CARLETON COUNTY.

BATE, N. B., June 20.—After careful investigation your correspondent has found that the story published in the Sun this morning in regard to the finding of a human skeleton in a sealed cave is absolutely correct. The cave is situated five miles back of Muniac, in an easterly direction on the boundary line between Carleton and Victoria counties, and about twelve miles from the village. Charles E. Stewart has the ring which was found among the bones, and which bore the inscription "John Long, Dec. 4, 1773." One of the books in possession of John E. Stewart, who was with his uncle when the discovery was made, and Dr. Earl, of Perth, N. B., has the other book. The case has awakened the greatest interest in this locality, and many theories are advanced as to the probable origin of the mysterious place. Everyone here is anxious to see the investigation carried further, and some are of the opinion that other caves, probably containing treasure, exist near the one which has already excited so much interest in this part of the province. This theory has even now been acted upon, and today saw more dynamiting of the cave which contained the skeleton than has been practically done, and a large amount of work is necessary to clear away the debris so that an entrance can again be obtained. CORNER WILL INVESTIGATE. As soon as it can be verified that the cave is in Carleton county arrangements will be made to have a coroner from this place investigate the locality. FURTHER DISCOVERIES EXPECTED. (Special to the Sun.) ANDOVER, June 20.—The story as published in the Sun this morning of the finding of a human skeleton in a cave near Muniac, on Sunday by Chas. E. Stewart and John E. Stewart, prominent residents of the village, has caused considerable talk in this neighborhood, and although no definite theory has been suggested, it seems to be the opinion here that further interesting discoveries may be made. With this end in view the work of dynamiting was continued today.

The vessel is a total loss. Their little son, four years old, was saved, as were also the crew. Capt. Faulkner was a native of Hantsport, brother of Major Faulkner, Mrs. Faulkner was from Cape Cod. MRS. WILLIAMS.

SACKVILLE, N. B., June 20.—The death occurred here this morning of Mrs. Williams, wife of J. H. Williams, bookkeeper for Geo. E. Ford. Deceased had been ill for several weeks with pneumonia and complications. The case is a particularly sad one, inasmuch as Mr. and Mrs. Williams came from the West Indies and are thus far away from any relatives.

HOAX, SAYS HON. F. J. SWEENEY.

When passing through the city last night, Hon. F. J. Sweeney referred to the story printed in yesterday's Sun regarding the mysterious cave and its occupant, near Andover. Mr. Sweeney stated that the story was going the rounds in Andover, but as far as he could learn had been manufactured out of whole cloth. "Of course," remarked the surveyor general, "I did not look into the matter very closely, but responsible parties in Andover treat the story as a yarn, pure and simple."

LIVERPOOL, June 19.—Arthur Peacock, a Warrington councilor, was fined $500 at Liverpool County Sessions yesterday for abusing his official position by offering $500 to push the sale of certain land through the Finance and Estate Committee of the Council.
