

BUSTER BROWN

HE BREAKS UP COUSIN FANNY'S WEDDING

Gasoline

OMAHA, Neb., A Pacific Railroad has new type of gasoline an improvement on several ways, the "portable" being the most serviceable being, which specially

METHOD

The Early Days

The town of Sackville is the richest section, county of Westmorland, the province, the P. its marsh lands being exhaustible. It has manufacturing establishments, a large business other iron work, boot nature, farming equipment, lines. The poor are their fewness, the w. enal, and quite a number wealthy. There are residences, much taste, and garden, and str. quote the words of G. inently appropriate: "Sweet Auburn, lovely plain: Where health and p. laboring swain, Where smiling spring pays, And parting summer's delays."

Sackville has five churches, man Catholic, Anglican, Baptist and Methodist features of the place. tional institutions, con University of Mount Ladies' College, and These all belong to church, and are in a ing condition. The res of the university is a the library and the e and the art building. the university is the fr in Canada, the collect being very large. It bered that the Crown this city was removed 1888, when the building stored to its original name of Zion church.

THE EARLY After Acadia passed, flag of France to that tain, and many of its ants either by necessity left the country, quite families were in New England and occu thus vacated. Among the earlier arrivals are Dent, Chappell, Charter son, Fillmore, Gooch, Peck, Ward and Wry found in all the section land and Westmorland Chignecto isthmus. Mar families have entirely not a few sought homes these provinces, but it that the greater number hearty sympathy w can revolutionists, either the close of the war, re United States. Indeed, reason to believe that New Englanders were loyal to the British crown availed themselves of a able opportunity to thr allegiance. No one can cords of pre-revolutionary out, being forced to th despite the loyal address of fealty which were by Evidences of this is furn readiness with which New Englanders who ha this country and had a to complain of gave such fort to the revolutionists their power, even to the ing up arms and mak their loyal neighbors boe fused to aid them in the ment of the empire.

THE BAPTIST CH In Sackville reaches back 1763, when thirteen men denomination came from Massachusetts, bringing with them. As the societ up some eight years aft "almost all returned to settle," the continuity of these one hundred and years has been called in history of the British m nishes a somewhat simil claim it has existed for thousand years, and yet time when the King was family driven into exile, abolished, and another for ment established. But traditions, memories, usag ions that were not destr a while took shape and the restoration, and it is